SEEVERS' MOTHER DECLARES SHE'LL STAND BY HIM

KEEP BEARDS FROM PROPELLER, ROGERS TELLS ST. LOUISANS

(Special To The News)
SANTA MONICA, Cal., July 29.—As I take my pen in hand to drop you these few lines, those old boys in St. Louis just won't come down.

You know their greatest danger from now on is their whiskers catching in the propeller and don't compliment them for staying up in air over St. Louis this hot weather.

Bestow your gratitude on the folks who have to stay on the ground in St. Louis in the summer time.

One thing about this war of China's and Russia, nobody can ever accuse either one of them of being quick tempered.

Yours.

WILL.

PA NEWG OBSERVES

Young Pa Newg took a ride to Harlansburg and returned to the city last evening via East Brook. He noted some fine fields of corn between Harlansburg and East Brook.

Exterior construction work on the new Harlansburg school has been finished and workmen will soon start on the interior. From present indications, the structure will not be ready for occupancy by the start of the term this fall, however.

Had it not been for a good breeze yesterday, the day would have been insufferably hot. It was plenty warm enough as it was. Bathing pools were the most popular spots to be found about New Castle.

Yesterday the Grace M. E. church officially went out of existence, members of the Epworth church board uniting with them in their closing service in the morning. Next Sunday they will attend services at the Epworth church and the little Grace church, which has been an institution for much good on the south side for a great many years will be swallowed up by changing conditions.

Last night's rain, of which there was plenty from the sound of things, failed to cool off the atmosphere. New Castle residents had a tough time sleeping between opening and closing windows to keep the rain out, and suffering from the heat.

New Castle boys at the various C. M. T. C. camps are entering on their last week of work. The camps will close around August 6 and the boys will return to their homes after a pleasant summer's vacation.

New Castle Boy Scouts will get a big thrill tonight when they hear "Spark Plug" Adams and Lloyd Warner of the Pittsburgh Pirates. This feature has been arranged for them by the Perry S. Griston post of the American Legion.

Pa Newg saw a large lighted sign on a district road reading "Barbecue Rooms". Wonder what kind of rooms those are? But they sound too warm for this kind of weather.

Well, Pa Newg is back from a Sunday night trip to Butler and better yet (Continued On Page Two)

Seevers' Mother Visits Her Son At County Jail

Comes Here From Martins Ferry, Ohio To Console Son In Trouble

CAN'T UNDERSTAND OUTBREAK, SHE SAYS

Seevers Will Probably Be Represented By Cleveland Lawyer

After years of separation, John Dewey Seevers and his mother Mrs. Fowler McCombie, of Marietta, O., were reunited today in the county jail. His whereabouts had been unknown to her for a number of years but newspaper accounts of his murder of his wife and Mrs. Catherine Rogers led her to believe that he was her son.

She was right. It is her son, and her boy faces a dual charge of first degree murder. Despite his wanderings, despite the fact that she has not seen much of him in the past 10 years, Mrs. McCombie will stick with him and expects to return here for his trial in September.

"He Was a Good Boy" said Mrs. McCombie. "I can't understand how he got himself into such a mess. He must have been insane."
"Are there any traces of insanity in your family?" was asked Mrs. McCombie.

"Well," she replied, "none of them was ever in the asylum, but the whole family connection was highly nervous. I have been subject to spells (Continued On Page Two)

Believe Dr. Snook Will Be Summoned In His Own Defense

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, O., July 29.—High spot developments ahead in the Snook murder trial, which was resumed today, are:

- 1.—Selection of the jury.
- 2.—A visit to the "murder scene" by the jury.
- 3.—Dr. James H. Snook's own story from the witness stand as to why he killed Miss Theora Hix, his beautiful cooed paramour.

When court was re-convened this morning the tedious task of selecting the jury was resumed with indications it would be completed late today or tomorrow.

Snook May Testify
Presently testimony will begin and in due time—unless present plans are changed—Snook himself will take the stand.

Will Dr. Snook's version of the slaying as he tells it to the jury differ in its essentials from the story he told International News Service in the last interview he granted? This interview was obtained in the county jail about a month ago. From notes in the writer's possession the following exceptions are taken:

Q. Dr. Snook, when this thing happened, did your mind go blank?
A. Yes. I can't recall the things they say I did—not even yet. My mind is in a daze.

Q. Was the crime premeditated as charged in the grand jury indictment?
A. Absolutely not. I had no intention of killing her. I thought she was going to kill me during our quarrel.

Dr. J. H. Snook Is Taken Ill

(International News Service)
COURTROOM, COLUMBUS, O., July 29.—Dr. James H. Snook, ex-college professor on trial for the murder of Miss Theora Hix, 25-year-old cooed, became ill in court today and defense attorneys requested that his presence not be required at the afternoon session.

Judge Henry L. Scarlett took the request under consideration. Snook's illness was attributed to the fact that on Saturday he underwent a test at the hand of Dr. H. M. Brundage, a Columbus blood specialist, who is said to have tapped his spine.

Dr. Snook did not seem to be himself in court this morning. He was pale and wan and took no interest in the proceedings.

Endurance Flier Instantly Killed, Pilot Is Injured

Captain P. L. Crichton, Army Airman Meets Death, Haugland Hurt In Minnesota

(International News Service)
MINNEAPOLIS, July 29.—Captain P. L. Crichton, veteran army flyer, was killed and Owen Haugland, pilot of the endurance plane, Minnesota, was critically injured here today when the plane crashed after being in the air more than a hundred hours.

The plane crashed just five minutes after a note had been dropped asking for gasoline and telling onlookers that all was well.

This note added that no oil was needed. Then as the ship zoomed into the clouds, it was seen to falter. The Minnesota went into a tail-spin, hovered perilously over Wold-Chamberlain airport, and with the speed of a meteor, crashed to the ground.

Crichton was dead when rescuers reached the plane. Haugland was unconscious and was rushed to a hospital.

Crichton was piloting the plane at the time. Haugland, who has made four attempts to better the record now being established in St. Louis, was believed to have been asleep when the crash occurred. He was found stretched upon an improvised bed.

Authorities were at a loss to account for the crash. The plane was apparently functioning well when it careened wildly and plunged downward.

St. Louis Fliers Are Still In Air Near 400 Hours

Airmen In "St. Louis Robin" Amaze World With Endurance Feat

WEATHER FINE; FLIERS REPORT

Thousands On Ground Watch As Flight Goes Monotonously On

By ROBERT A. HEREFORD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LAMBERT FIELD, ST. LOUIS, July 29.—The St. Louis Robin, piloted by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien, passed its 388th hour of sustained flying at 10:11 a. m. today. At that time the monoplane had been up more than 141 hours past the old world endurance record.

LAMBERT FIELD, ST. LOUIS, July 29.—Dust parched lips formed just one question today as necks cranked backward and bloodshot eyes peered into a blazing harvest sun.

"When are they coming down?"

The question of course applied to St. Louis' eternal endurance fliers who at 7:15 this morning had been fraternizing with the clouds continuously in their air castle the St. Louis Robin for 384 hours. At that time the pilots, Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien had started their seventeenth day in the air.

Test For All
The endurance flight today had developed into a test for the tired groundlings as much as for the two men of iron up above who are determined to outlast their steel and aluminum motor.

"How is the weather down there?" asked the fliers in a recent note. "Sure is fine at 5,000 feet." The reporters and camera men and the (Continued On Page Two)

Inmate Of Home Hangs Self To Tree

Aged Man's Body Found Along Road Near County Home

REMAINS AT HOME BUT SINGLE DAY

James Moring, aged about 65 years, an inmate of the Lawrence county home, but a day, coming there from Winfield, Kan., where he had been an inmate of a Knights of Pythias home, ended his life over the week-end by hanging himself to a tree along the road to Gardner, from the home.

According to another inmate of the home, he is alleged to have stated on Saturday when last seen alive, that he "was tired of living, because of his sufferings caused by rheumatism, and believed he would end it all."

Body Found
He was admitted to the home on last Friday. He left the home about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Sunday morning Paul McNicholas, another inmate was walking from the home along the road to Gardner when he noticed a hat, coat and cane hanging on a tree.

Investigating, he found Mr. Moring lying on the ground dead and with a piece of loosely twisted twine twice about his neck. He notified Perry Snyder, superintendent of the home, who called Coroner J. P. Caldwell.

The coroner on investigation found that Moring had hanged himself, putting the rope up over a limb of the tree under which he was found. He had been strangled to death by the rope, which had eventually broken under the weight of his body.

Further investigation by the coroner developed the fact that previous to residing in the K. of P. home in Winfield, Kan., that he had resided in the Dean block here and had been extended some help by the county.

A letter found in his pocket indicates that he was a member of the K. of P. lodge in Manhattan, Kan., and that it was as a member of such that he had been admitted to the home in Winfield, Kan.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Farewell Service In Grace Church Occurs On Sunday; Large Crowd At Ceremony

Memory tugged at the heart strings of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church members Sunday morning. A quarter of a century marched by in retrospect as the members attended the last service in the old building for on August 1st, the South Side church becomes the property of the St. George Greek Orthodox Community.

Some time ago the Grace church merged with the Epworth M. E. and shortly after the property was sold. Sunday, July 28, was set as the day for the farewell service and for it the auditorium of the old church was filled. Men and women who had not been there for years came back, and it reminded one of a commencement exercise.

Dr. Neigh Preaches.
Dr. P. S. Neigh, district superintendent, delivered the sermon of the day and also administered Holy Communion, assisted by Rev. J. L. Petrie, pastor of the church, and Wilbur Flannery, a local preacher of the church.

As a reminder of the splendid feeling that has always existed between Epworth and Grace churches, and also of the fact that it is now all one church, a delegation of the board of trustees of Epworth church was present. Norman Clark, superintendent of the Epworth Sunday School, and chairman of the finance committee for the new church brought a greeting, and this was responded to by Bart Richards for the Grace church.

Started shortly after the opening of 1900, Grace church has now been merged with the church from which it sprang, Epworth M. E. Rev. J. L. Petrie, pastor of Grace church will leave soon for the summer school of the Methodist church in Maryland. The last three Sundays of August he will occupy the pulpit of Epworth M. E. and in the September conference of the Methodist Episcopal church he will be assigned to a new charge.

HEART TROUBLE CAUSE OF DEATH

HARRY J. LUSK

Harry J. Lusk, aged 62, former mayor of this city and druggist for almost half a century in this city, died Sunday morning about 8:15 o'clock at the family residence, 303 Edison avenue, after an illness of some time, due to heart trouble.

Mr. Lusk was one of the city's best known business men and the news of his death came as a shock, although it had been known for some time that he could not recover from the illness, which resulted in death.

Born In City
Mr. Lusk was a member of one of the oldest families of the North Beaver or township district. He was born in this city, April 18, 1867, the son of Henry and Susie Statler Lusk.

He was a self-made man in every sense of the word. His mother was widowed when he was but four months old, he being one of four small children.

As he grew into boyhood and then into manhood, he assumed many responsibilities that rested heavily on him at times. When he left school, he went to work in a brickyard, where he labored for two years. He then spent one year in an engineering corps.

In 1884, he entered into the drug (Continued On Page Two)

Legion Officials Go To Pittsburgh For Pirate Players

Management Reluctant To Leave
Two Mainstays Of Club
Off For Trip Here

At the last minute, today, Legion officials learned from the Pirate management that they were not in favor of allowing Lloyd Warner and "Sparkie" Adams to make the trip here this evening for an address to the Boy Scouts of Lawrence county. Arrangements had already been completed with the pirates and when the Pirate bosses learned of it, they put their foot down, stating that the Pirate club is now facing a crisis in the National league play race, and could not afford to take any chances on anything happen to two such valuable players as Adams and Warner. Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, chairman of the Boy Scouts committee and several other Legion officials left for Pittsburgh this morning in the hope that they would be able to get the Pirate leaders to relent and allow players to come here this evening. Word was received from Dr. Rosenthal at 1:30 this afternoon that they had been successful. In their quest and that the two players would be here for the scheduled address. The Boy Scouts will assemble at the Legion Home at 8 o'clock for the meeting, and will be given an opportunity through the courtesy of the Perry S. Gaston Post of the Legion, to greet these two famous players in person.

crowd which averaged 15,000 during all of the hot Sabbath, wiped perspiring brows and sighed for the altitude of an endurance flyer. The hot weather is still weather, and the ideal flying conditions which many of the experts believe have had a major part in making possible the remarkable feat of the St. Louis Robins, continued to prevail. The heavens became overcast toward dusk last night and some of the more pessimistic endurance flight bugs forecast a violent climax to the flight which would end with the plane being blown out of the skies by a terrific storm or even a tornado. O. R. Parks, the field manager has issued a set of instructions in connection with the plane's landing which include the notification of the police department for an escort for the fliers and the hasty erection of a temporary fence around the now famous St. Louis Robin to save it from the fate of the "Spirit of St. Louis" Lindy's sky horse which was for a time threatened with mutilation at the hands of an enthusiastic crowd of souvenir seekers.

he is still alive. Some traffic on that road. The gorge ride at the park has little on that road for dips and thrills.

A large inter-urban bus endangered many lives at 5 o'clock Sunday evening by passing cars on the Butler road.

The maximum temperature of the summer, recorded at 93 on Memorial day, was equaled Sunday, when the mercury again hit that figure. Saturday was also warm, the maximum being 90. The minimum last night was 72.

Completion of the road past Rich Hill church from the end of the East Brook concrete road to Volant will provide an improved road in one of the pioneer localities of the county. At least Pa Newc recollects that there is a ruin of quite a large-sized cabin along the road.

Apparently the street department has been at work on North Beaver street recently. Some of the noticeable holes in the paving have been filled in with some asphalt substance.

of intense nervousness and melancholia. My family was what is known as a high-strung family. I have heard my grandmother say that her family contained many professional men, some of them college professors and nervousness seemed to go with it.

"My son was born in Constitution, O., between Marietta and Parkersburg. At that time I was married to John Seever. He was much older than I, for I was just a girl. He was grouch and finally I divorced him. Later I married a man named W. L. Seever and divorced him also. I am now married to Fowler McComb.

A Working Woman
"All my life I have had to work and even now am working in a restaurant in Marietta. O. When Mr. Seever and I were divorced he took Dewey with him, but from time to time he visited me. Mr. Seever still lives in Marietta and eats at the restaurant where I work.

"My boy is in a terrible mess, but I am not going to desert him now. I expect to return to Marietta in a day or so, but I will be back in September, when I understand he is going to trial."

Seever will have a Cleveland attorney with him in his trial. Attorneys of that city, accompanied by H. H. Gray, a druggist friend of Seever, visited him in the jail Sunday afternoon. At the conclusion of the interview the attorney said he did not know what line of defense would be, but indicated that there was a possibility of a plea on the grounds of Seever being insane.

Shot at Another Man

From statements made by little 10-year-old Walter Rogers, it appears that Seever had been doing some shooting before he got to New Castle. He asserted that when they were coming through Girard, O., a car tried to pass them. He says that Seever let the car pass and then chased after it. Finally he pulled a gun and fired through the stranger's car. The stranger turned up a side street and disappeared.

District Attorney J. Elder Bryan had no statement to make today concerning the case. He has had some work done on the Cleveland end of the case and these facts he expects to use in the trial.

John Seever, father of the accused man, will probably be released from the hospital this afternoon. His bruises have healed up and he will return to Cleveland, where he was visiting, at the earliest possible moment.

Walter Rogers will probably be released in a day or so, as his wounds have responded to treatment very nicely.

ENGLISH TEXTILE WORKERS STRIKE

$5,000,000 weekly, while the setbacks to owners of the mills, coal mines supplying the plants and allied industries will be many times that amount.

The wage reduction, about 12 cents on the dollar, was ordered to become effective today, and immediately that failure of the mediation attempts was seen to be inevitable, all the unions concerned voted almost unanimously not to accept the cut and to remain away from work until the reduction is rescinded.

Negotiations had been in progress for a week in an effort to bring about some sort of an agreement between owners and employees, but have been without result.

From demonstrations staged in the vicinity of the principal mills today, it was apparent that the workers have no intention of altering their decision to remain away from work until the mills suffer such terrific losses that the owners will be forced to rescind the reduction.

She leaves four sons: Ira C. of North Beaver township, William J. of Pittsburgh, Harry of Salem, O., and Charles L. at home. Her husband died about nineteen years ago.

Mrs. Williams was born March 25, 1855, a daughter of Oliver J. and Rachel Lutten Hazen, pioneer residents of Shenango township.

She and her husband, who died January 15, 1911, were married December 31, 1873, and lived for many years on their farm near Hillsville, Lawrence county, Pennsylvania, moving to New Castle in 1904.

At an early date she was united with the Protestant Baptist church near North Swickley, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, and was, at the time of her death, a member of the First Baptist church of this city.

business with his brother Bes L. Lusk in the city, to which he remained continuously until the time of his death, except for one year during which he had charge of a drugstore in Sharon.

On attaining manhood, he took an active interest in public questions and sought to assist advanced movements of any kind regardless of party interests. This secured him the confidence of the people of this city and in February 18, 1908, he was elected mayor of the city on the Citizen's Ticket and out of the 4,400 votes cast at that time, he received more than 2,000, the balance being cast for four opposing candidates. Grocers Plan To Hold Big Picnic

Making Plans For Big Event At
Cascade Park On August 28

Plans are being completed by the grocery stores affiliated with the New Castle Retail Grocers Association and the Handy Service Stores to hold a big picnic at Cascade Park on August 28. It is hoped to have all the retail and wholesale grocery stores of the city and county join in the event and close up for that day.

There will be all kinds of sports and fine prizes and it is anticipated that it will equal if not exceed the grocer picnics of former years.

Dawes And Gibson Hold Conference

Cleveland said that J. A. Paisley, president of the Valley Camp Coal Company, was heading the merger plan.

A. B. McElvany, secretary of the western Pennsylvania coal traffic bureau, representing interests in Pittsburgh, Butler-Mercer, Freeport and Connelville districts, said his only information had come from the Cleveland dispatches.

President J. D. A. Morrow of the Pittsburgh Coal Company admitted some knowledge of the enterprise, but said, "at the present time I do not think we would be interested in going into it."

Officials of other companies either denied knowledge of the plan or said their companies were not concerned with any such action.

STAR LORE
THE LITTLE PLANET MERCURY
By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
Mercury is the smallest of the worlds of the solar system (not considering the planetoids), with a diameter of 3,100 miles, or 940 miles greater than the moon's diameter. Its surface area is but 15 per cent of that of the earth's. Being so close to the sun—36 million miles—it has a temperature hot enough to melt lead, 350 degrees Centigrade, making physical life upon its surface impossible. Mercury makes but one rotation on its axis, while going once around the sun, consequently it keeps the same geographical surface directed continuously toward the sun. There is no indication that Mercury possesses an atmosphere. It is once did. It has escaped.

Graf Zeppelin To Start Wednesday On Ocean Journey

Graf Zeppelin Prepares For Second Flight To American Shores

By OTTO D. TOLICHUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, July 29.—Germany's great trans-Atlantic dirigible Graf Zeppelin will start for Lakehurst, N. J., at five o'clock Wednesday morning if weather conditions are favorable. It was announced this afternoon. However, this time is subject to change.

Three American women are bidding for trans-Atlantic accommodations on the Graf Zeppelin.

The would-be American women passengers are Mrs. Mary Pierce, only woman aboard the Graf when it narrowly escaped disaster in a storm over the Rhine valley on its first attempt in May; Mrs. George Crouse and Anna May Wong, the San Francisco born Chinese screen star.

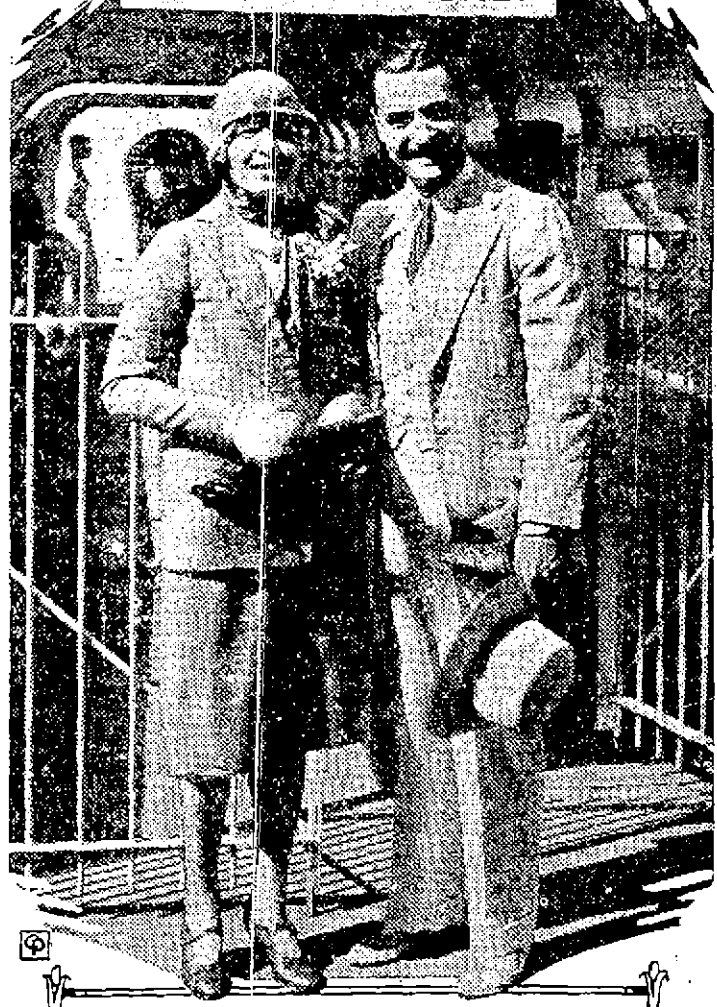

Mrs. Pierce is reported rushing to Friedrichshafen from somewhere in the heart of Russia; Mrs. Crouse is aboard the Mauretania with her husband, and Miss Wong is expected at Friedrichshafen some time today from Berlin.

Another ambitious passenger is Mrs. Catherine Berg, graduate of Stanford University, who is the wife of the Danish director of I. G. Farben, Germany's great dye trust.

And there is still a fifth woman who hopes to go—Mme. Reine Gourevitch, wife of the Russian pianist, who was aboard on the Zeppelin's last attempt.

GILBERTS HOP OFF ON HONEYMOON

PASSENGERS ONLY

Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert, of the films—she was the former Ina Claire—snapped as they boarded a plane at Los Angeles for a flight across the continent en route to Europe and a belated honeymoon. The couple eloped six weeks ago, but were prevented from taking an immediate wedding trip until each finished a picture.

to the method by which he was kicked off. I am reminded of the man who was about to be hung, and who exclaimed when asked if he had anything to say: "This is sure going to be a lesson to me!"

Some of the other acts which are punishable by death by reason of being considered counter-revolutionary were the following:

Carrying on negotiations with parties outside of Russia. This was given a wide application and included any correspondence with persons outside the country who were known to be plotting intervention or any interference.

Agitation against the paying of taxes. This was directed especially against the Tolstois.

Economic counter-revolution. This applied to the slowing down of production. The Donetz case now being tried, in which engineers in charge of coal mines in the Caucasus were charged with allowing mines to become flooded, comes under this provision.

Participating in a strike, if the purpose is political and not purely economic.

Destruction of railway bridges or otherwise interfering with transport. In 1918 bridges were blown up right in the city of Moscow. All of the bridges which we have crossed in our travels in Russia are heavily guarded even now.

Espionage. This includes the attempt to secure information "which might be used to aid the overthrow of the government." Obviously this could have wide application.

An ex-post-facto provision to punish by death anyone who during the Czarist regime had ever a part in arresting and punishing communists. There is no Statute of Limitations to this act. Many are being shot under it today. Many double died traitors have been caught and executed. They betrayed the Czarist government to the revolutionists, and are found to have formerly betrayed revolutionists to the Czar. It is held that they are never to be trusted and should be summarily put out of the way.

Aspinwall Hospital Unit To Be Started

Dempsey Receives Word From State Commander Gebert That Contract Is Let

Word was received early this afternoon from State Legion Commander Charles A. Gebert, by Pat J. Dempsey, district deputy commander of the 25th District for the American Legion, that work will be started on the addition to the U. S. Veterans hospital at Aspinwall immediately.

Commander Gebert had just returned from Washington where he conferred with officials of the Veterans Bureau in the matter and was told that the contract will be let immediately and work started at once. The appropriation for construction of the unit is already available.

Congressman J. Howard Swick was one of those who worked hard in the interests of the hospital addition, and news that it will be built will be welcomed in veteran circles in this district, as it means better hospital facilities for disabled veterans, which is now lacking. Fifty additional beds will be provided by the addition.

Woman Member Of Cabinet Is Alert In Textile Strike

FOUR DESPERATE CRIMINALS ESCAPE IN AUBURN RIOTS

throughout the eastern United States and Canada were asked to watch for the following four men:

Arthur Barry, 30, sentenced to twenty-five years imprisonment from Nassau county for first degree burglary.

Joseph Capricio, 20, serving twenty years for second degree robbery. He was sentenced in Rochester.

Steve Pawlik, 29, sentenced from Erie county to life imprisonment as a fourth offender on a first degree robbery charge.

George Small, 33, New York City, serving twelve years for second degree robbery.

Two Convicts Killed
Eleven wounded, some of them critically, and four jailers wounded by bullets from riot guns in the hands of the convicts before the uprising was quelled after a bloody battle of five hours. State troopers from miles around reinforced the prison guard and finally had a baptism of fire in an unsuccessful effort to save the burning buildings.

Names of the dead convicts were announced today as Joseph Cunningham, of Buffalo, who was serving from seven and one-half to fifteen years for arson, and George Wright, also of Buffalo, incarcerated for fifteen years for robbery in the first degree.

Troopers On Guard
One of the four wounded guards lies near death. He is Eugene Fasse, of Auburn, who was shot four times while battling the rioters.

Seventy-five state troopers remained on guard outside the prison this morning. With many other troopers aiding in the search for the escaped convicts, prison officials expressed confidence they would shortly be apprehended. An important clue has been discovered in the revelation that two of the escaped jailbirds commandeered a car driven by an Auburn man forced him to drive through Syracuse, and then headed north toward Lake Ontario after throwing their "chauffeur" from his car on a deserted stretch of road.

Fifteen May Face Trials For Death Of Police Chief

Fifteen Alleged "Red Conspirators" In Death Of Aderholt May Face Trials

By HENRY LESENE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURT ROOM, GASTONIA, N. C., July 29.—The way was opened today for the trial of fifteen alleged "Red" conspirators in the strike disturbance killing of Police Chief O. F. Aderholt of Gastonia.

Short before noon presentments charging the five labor organizers and ten labor agitators with conspiracy in the assassination of the police officer were given to the Gaston county grand jury for indictment.

rel. She said she'd kill me and I thought she was reaching for a pistol in her bag.

Q. Does your conscience trouble you now?

A. No. Why, I don't yet realize I did such a thing. It is inconceivable.

Many Regrets
Q. Have you any regrets?

A. Oh, yes! I regret everything I can't tell you how much.

Q. Doctor, you are not, or never have been addicted to drugs—as rumored? Or Miss Hix?

A. No. Once she asked me for cocaine to remove a spot on her ear. Only once.

(This reply is significant in view of the stress defense attorneys are laying on the drug angle of the case in their questioning of prospective jurors.)

Q. Were you eager to have your affair with Miss Hix over with—to get rid of her?

A. No. Everything was agreeable. Arrangements for the summer between us were better than the previous summer.

Q. Did you ever promise to marry her?

A. No. Why, she said she wouldn't marry me on a bet.

Companionship
Dr. Snook talked to International News Service on this occasion for at least an hour. Was he jealous of Marion T. Meyers, former friend of Miss Hix? No. Was he in love or merely infatuated with the young co-educator?

"Simple a case of companionship with a most desirable girl, as she was at first," was his explanation. Asked to describe Miss Hix he said she was "very dignified, neat in appearance, studious and ordinary calm in demeanor."

She discussed sex matters with him quite freely, he declared, in refuting a statement of the slain girl's father, Melvin Hix, that he must have broken down the girl's "moral reserve."

"She led me on in conversation about sex books," Snook said. "She entered into these discussions keenly—more intelligently than I."

(Defense attorneys have indicated an examining jurors that they are going into the sex phase of the case thoroughly.)

Snook said his brain "snapped" when he was battling the girl on the rifle range on the fatal night. Asked if he was not tempered he said he was not, adding: "I hold a lot but when I let go I let go."

He explained that about the time of the killing he was in great mental turmoil, what with things at the university crowding him for attention, Miss Hix quarreling with him because he planned to go away for the week-end with his wife and baby, and his magazine publishers calling upon him for overdue copy.

Resume Jury Selecting.
COURTROOM, COLUMBUS, O., July 29.—"Fixed opinions" proved to be the chief stumbling block again today in the seemingly monumental task of obtaining a jury to try Dr. James H. Snook for the murder of Miss Theora Hix, the "bashful" co-ed.

The first three prospective jurors examined this morning were excused because they had made up their minds as to the guilt or innocence of Snook.

For four successive court days "fixed opinions" have led all other reasons for dismissal of takersmen. Of the 62 prospective jurors examined up to late this forenoon 21 had "fixed opinions." Thirteen were challenged because of their opposition to capital punishment. The others were excused for various reasons, such as "needed on the farm," defective hearing or ill health.

The original panel of 75 takersmen is nearing exhaustion. A new panel of 50 men and women appeared in court today and were sworn in for possible jury duty.

The heat in the crowded courtroom and the long grind of jury selecting began to try the nerves of the attorneys. While the 58th takersman, C. D. Trimble, a traveling salesman, was undergoing examination, Prosecuting Attorney John J. Chester, Jr., and E. O. Ricketts of defense counsel engaged in hot debate.

You (meaning Chester) are trying to force this man into the jury box, shouted Ricketts during the argument. "And he has a fixed opinion."

"Don't try to scare me, Mr. Ricketts!" retorted the much younger Mr. Chester.

The court rapped for order and the examination of Trimble continued. He was finally excused.

Dr. Snook, looking rather pale today, sat slumped in his chair paying little attention to the proceedings. Frequently he closed his eyes and seemed to be lost in thought. He paid no attention to the big audience of girls and women who gazed at him.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin T. Hix, parents of the slain girl, sat 20 paces away. They seemed to be wilted.

Finally the jury box was filled when Donald E. Post, bookkeeper in a bank, was finally accepted.

He took seat No. 2 and court declared a recess.

It will be necessary, however, to select a 13th, or emergency, juror.

Tokio Flight Off, Plane Is Wrecked

Lieutenant Bromley, Slightly Bruised As Plane Wrecks

(International News Service)
TACOMA, Wash., July 29.—His giant monoplane wrecked in the take-off, Lieut. Harold Bromley, bruised and broken-hearted, today was compelled to forego his cherished ambition to fly 4,750 miles to Tokyo on the longest non-stop air dash ever undertaken.

Gasoline squirting from overloaded tanks, swirling dust and a blazing sun blinded Bromley as he started his plane down the runway.

Woman Hurt In Unusual Mishap

According to the report made to the police Saturday by Gus Cohen, of Youngstown, O., he had stepped on the rear of the truck of the Workingman's Supply company of Youngstown, which was parked on South Croton avenue near the Peerless garage to remove its overalls.

As he was stepping out of the truck, Mrs. Jake Frank of South Jefferson street, happened to be walking by and in stepping down, his foot landed on a pasteboard box, which happened to be there. This caused him to lose his balance and as he was regaining his balance, he struck Mrs. Frank and knocked her backwards.

She fell to the street on her right side and was injured. A Physician was called and found that apparently she had suffered no serious injury. She was then taken to her home.

New York Planning Additional Schools

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 29.—That plans to care for the increase in the attendance at public schools throughout the city are well advanced, and are disclosed when a compilation recently made showed 112,000 children planned for construction for the coming year.

This is the highest number of children planned or contracted for in this city at one time. Reported in the high figure are the attempts to cope with the current demand and to care for the future increase when the city is able to see a plan for the time necessary to complete construction of present structures.

Sitings under contract of July 1 totaled 75,485 which is only slightly under the recent record figure, 75,690, reached in May of this year.

These figures point to another spurt in the school construction program, and may be compared with the 1925 to 1931 period, when the city was able to meet the needs of that time. In that year a comprehensive schedule calling for the building of millions was swung through the city's legislative bodies and, in May, 1925, 113,381 children were planned or contracted for and of this number 90,290 were actually in construction.

The figures also revealed in the heretofore reports of the Board of Education are watched closely by prospective teachers because they reflect the need for teachers that may be expected upon the completion of the increases in the school system.

Two Giants Of The Universe

By S. S. MYERS

So far as is known Betelgeuse and Arcturus are the two great bodies in our universe. Both are so far away that it is only recently that astronomers have been able to measure their distance from the earth and ascertain their diameter with any degree of accuracy.

Betelgeuse is 200 million miles distant and its diameter is as great as the orbit of Mars, which is so amazing that we can hardly grasp it. If you can think of a body 283,386,000 miles in diameter it will give you something of an idea of its immensity. It is located in the right shoulder of Orion and one of the brightest stars in that constellation which stands out so vividly as a beautiful just south of the zenith during the early months of the year.

Arcturus is situated in the constellation Bootes. A line drawn from the north star to the end of the handle of the Great Dipper and prolonged an equal distance ends near Arcturus. It was about to slay her in the chase, when Jupiter prevented so unfortunate a deed by taking them both to the sky, where Bootes has been chasing the Great Bear around the north star ever since.

The name Bootes is used by Homer, and signifies "A Plowman." The Great Dipper has often been called a plow, though Homer calls it a wagon. It seems that Homer regarded Bootes as being either the driver of the wagon or the guide of the plow.

Arcturus was often called "The Bear Driver" because it follows the Great Bear around the Pole Star.

In the 32d chapter of Job, 32nd verse, God said to Job: "Canst thou bring forth Mazzoroth in his season? or canst thou guide Arcturus and his sons?" The "sons" referred to here evidently mean the other eight stars in the constellation Bootes.

Offers Help Painting Any Color But Red

JANESVILLE, Wis., July 29.—In what he termed an effort to beautify the countryside, George S. Parker, fountain pen manufacturer here, recently offered any farmer 12 1/2 per cent of the cost of painting his barn any color but red.

"The average farmer's barn is an eyesore," said Parker. "The red paint is monotonous."

Six townships were included in his offer.

PETER'S ADVENTURES

ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. PETER
SAINT VINCENT

A CALL TO ARMS.

The Queen was of her job. She spoke to the herald standing beside her. The Herald blew three blasts on his tiny bugle. In perfect silence the bees waited for their Queen to give her orders.

Rising to her feet and holding her sceptre high above her head, Her Majesty spoke. Her voice was clear and firm.

"To arms, my subjects! Prepare your sails to defend your home and children! Enemies march against us who would steal our food and destroy our babies. There will be no Beville and no new Queens to found another town if they are not conquered. Be brave my people and save all we love from the wicked invader."

"General Bumble you take command of the town itself!"

"You Colonel Buzz, I charge with the protection of the outside gates."

"Captain Busy, with your life guard the nurseries and the honey cells."

"To your stations now and do your duty. I command you in the name of our United Kingdom!"

In a second the scene changed. Where silence reigned before now all was excitement. In a surprisingly short time the officers formed their companies—every fighting bee had taken its place in the rank and file and was working time with its feet. If he had been so fearful lest something terrible happen to his new found friends, Peter would have laughed out loud—for each soldier had six feet instead of two to mark time with and each soldier marked time with a funny sort of shuffle that was very comical to watch.

The Queen waited until the bee army had fallen into line. Then as the head of a nation should she took her place at the front of a detachment—and Peter noticed it was the one detailed to guard the nurseries and the cells.

"Your Queen is ready to fight and to die with you if need be" declared

Women Now Entering Stock Market Frenzy

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, July 29.—The feminine usurpation of man's prerogatives has entered a new stage in this city, with the entry of women into the stock market frenzy. Cutting their hair man-fashion, the women have been scalping points like veterans and generally conducting themselves as their male prototypes, except that none have been seen smoking a Pittsburgh stogie.

Several brokers' offices have outfitted boards for feminine customers. Nor do the customers look courage to ride the market for a rise or fall short in hopes of a decline, according to Mrs. Marie M. Werner, manager of the new women's department in one Pittsburgh broker's office.

"Don't let anybody tell you that women haven't the nerve to be market operators," was Mrs. Werner's advice. "They've got just as much courage as the men. They know when to take their profits and when to hold on for a few extra points. They've learned quickly."

"You'll find the women cannily dealing in the same stocks that the smart operators are playing, and they play on margin, too. That day is gone when women didn't know the difference between a bearish or bullish market."

The new departments have prospered, according to officers of the brokerage houses, and are increasing their score daily.

She Swims Hellspont

First of her sex, with two other girls, to swim the historic Hellspont (the Dardanelles, straits between the Aegean sea and the Sea of Marmora) is Miss Eugene L. Peterson of Wellesley, Mass. Eugene swam the distance in an hour and a half. In mythology the Hellspont was first swum by the Greek athlete Leander, who had no other means crossing it to see his girl friend, Princess Hero.

Chicago Twin Sisters Are Bride Of Brothers

CHICAGO, July 29.—There must be some complication when twin sisters marry brothers. Perhaps they become sisters-in-law as well as twins. Or perhaps the husbands just have difficulty in telling their wives apart.

However that may be, Corneilia and Nellie are still twins. Before a ceremony in their home they were Corneilia and Nellie Hagen, 20, No. 11137 South Clifton Park. Afterwards they were Mmes. Corneilia and Nellie Krui-zenga, address unknown until the honeymoon is over. Jacob, 20, and Frank, 21, are their respective husbands.

'New Yoick' Wins Blue Book Rating In Councils Of Savants

NEW YORK, July 29.—A badge of portance and official respectability was given today to the pronunciation of first as "foist" or of New York as "New Yoick."

This educational change of heart was contained in an announcement from the American Council of Learned Societies at Columbia University of plans for making a dialect atlas of the United States. In the announcement Professor Hans Kurath of Ohio State University was quoted as saying:

"Movements of population have tremendous importance in the shaping and spread of dialect. The New York 'oi', to which the East Side may claim 'foist' rights, has been carried to all parts of the city to Long Island, to New Jersey and up the Hudson by business men, and commuters have imported it into Connecticut towns along the sound."

"This one-time vulgar pronunciation is fast becoming respectable with the rise of the 'oi' speakers to commercial, political and cultural importance."

Kurath created the mid-westerner's standard of all his 18 in part to the persistence of the hard 'i' Scotch speech. He traced it back to Scotch immigrants from Scotland and northern Ireland, who in their new American homes continued all their 'R's'. He credited the Irish also with helping to fix the 'oi' habit in the Mid-West.

Ten years is to be devoted to compiling the dialect atlas. It aims to catalogue ultimately the English dialects of all North America, and the foreign language colonies such as Pennsylvania Dutch, Canadian and Louisiana French, Spanish in the Southwest and Scandinavian in Minnesota and the Dakotas. The announcement forecasts for the book "Many Important Uses in American Education." A conference on the subject is announced for Yale University on August 2 and 3.

Wildcat Was Wild, Too Wild For Bulldog

WINCHESTER, Va., July 29.—A bulldog lost a desperate battle to a wildcat in a wooded section just west of a fashionable suburban district on the Valley pike south of town. The dog belonging to N. H. Carpenter, Jr., general manager of the Shenandoah Boxboard corporation was found on his master's premises clawed and torn about the head and body and died while being treated at a veterinary hospital.

The wildcat survived for its wails and howls were heard during the night in the same locality. A dozen or more residents with shotguns, clubs and flashlights made a search for the prowler but it managed to elude pursuit.

Mrs. Rodgers Funeral At New Kensington

Funeral services of the late Mrs. Catherine Rodgers, who died last Thursday at the Shenandoah Valley hospital as a result of bullet wounds inflicted by John D. Seavers of Cleveland, near Parkstown Corners on the New Castle-Youngstown highway, were held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of her mother, Mrs. Ruth Morrison Conley in New Kensington, Pa. Interment was made in the family burial plot in Springdale, Pa., about twelve miles from New Kensington.

Plan Conference With Trolley Men

Council And P. O. Company
Heads To Get Together
And Discuss Differences

COULTHARD COMES BEFORE COUNCIL

C. C. Coulthard, local superintendent of the Penn-Ohio rail system today poured oil on the troubled waters which have materialized between the higher-ups of the company and council. It is probable that the outcome of a conference to be arranged by Coulthard will result in a clearer and better understanding as to what the company is willing to do and what the city expects the company to do relative to improvements here.

A controversy is under way owing to the company's refusal to pay for a portion of West Washington street repaving.

The company abandoned a portion of its track system. Council believes the company should pay for its repaving.

As a retaliatory move when the company did not promise to fix the center of the trackway in Crawford avenue council ordered that it be repaved.

The solons also ordered that the interurban busses be banned from parking in front of the company's building and be parked in the middle of the public square.

Today Coulthard appeared before council and said that it is his understanding that the rail company's department of way and maintenance intends to fix the center of the tracks in Crawford avenue.

Council said the higher-ups of the company had given them no such information and at one period the council agreed that as far as Coulthard is concerned every councilman knows and likes him and said had he the power there would not be controversies here.

Mr. Coulthard said that unfortunately Manager of Railways R. N. Graham is absent from Youngstown and gave as his belief that Vice President C. S. McCalla really does not understand the situation which exists in this city.

He told council that he would personally see Vice President McCalla and arrange for a conference at which the officials could go over the entire situation and out of which a clear understanding is likely to come.

Mr. Coulthard did say during his session with council that he believes it only fair for the company to be allowed to have their busses stop five minutes at the company's building at the square. He pointed out the reason.

He said the busses could transact their business in five minutes time but should be near their station which has a waiting room and comfort station which is used by the general public. He said the company rebuilt the building at an outlay of $200,000.

Coulthard remarked that the building is a credit to the city and that the bus service is good. He said he did not like to see the busses be forced to transact business at a point distant from the station. Other cars, he said, can park for longer periods.

Make Changes In Claim Procedure

Veterans Bureau Regional Offices
Now Have Final Denial
For Insurance

Regional offices of the Veterans bureau are now authorized to effect final denial of claims for insurance benefits, according to Pat J. Dempsey, secretary of the local Red Cross headquarters.

This change in policy will expedite the matter of handling claims considerably as all such claims had to be taken to the central office at Washington formerly.

All veterans are entitled to recourse through the courts, insurance claims differing in that respect from compensations.

Library's Patrons At Nation's Capital Set Honesty Mark

Fewer Than One-Tenth Of One Per Cent Of Books Vanish From Shelves

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Library patrons in Washington are conspicuous.

This on the word of Dr. George F. Bowerman, librarian of the Public library. For, while libraries in many parts of the country are experiencing great difficulty in getting back books loaned and are suffering considerable loss in consequence, the Public library pursues the even tenor of its way with a total of less than one-tenth of one per cent.

The most recent figures for the fiscal year 1927-28 reveal a total circulation of 1,578,422 volumes, either from the main library or branches, from which not more than 14,732 books were either lost or necessarily drawn from circulation. These figures are the more unusual, since they include books loaned to children by the juvenile department, which takes no inventory.

At a conference held by the representatives of libraries throughout the country in Chicago recently, Dr. Bowerman declared the number of books lost by his institution is so few, in comparison with the number circulated, that it often has cost the library more to maintain a messenger service for the recovery of those books than the value of the books themselves.

Were it not for the fact that the Public library has a duty to perform in safeguarding, so far as possible, government property, it would be more practicable to stand the occasional losses than to attempt a recovery of the books.

A few figures quoted by Dr. Bowerman showed the total circulation of the audit department of the General library, exclusive of branches, to be 370,000 volumes for the fiscal year 1924-25. Out of this number all were voluntarily returned by the holders within the time specified, except 9,000 volumes, or about 2 1/2 per cent. The mailing of letters of reminder to the delinquent holders reduced the number of unreturned books to 2,079, or one-half of one per cent.

By resorting to telephone calls or mailing the "messenger" card threatening to dispatch a messenger to the homes of the holders, the number was reduced to 513, or one-fifth of one per cent. Finally the messenger service, or last resort of the library, succeeded in recovering all but 330. This left less than one-tenth of one per cent unrecovered and a loss.

While the figures quoted were composed of a number of years ago, the proportion of wastage has not materially changed, Dr. Bowerman declares.

The present policy of the library is to send letters of warning to holders of books one week overdue, and if there is no result to attempt to reach them by telephone before resorting to the messenger.

You never knew what to expect in this world, except when you're watching some half-high hombre tinker with some contrivance that's fool-proof.

Doubtless skinny old mosquitoes hold forth concerning the hard times of early days when ankles were only four inches long.

Complete Plans For Vote On Bonds

Citizens To Ballot On Five Year
Issue At Fall
Election

Council met at city hall today and adopted finally five ordinances which will result in citizens voting "yes" or "no" at the general election to increase the indebtedness of the city in excess of two per centum upon the last preceding assessed valuation of taxable property. Council plans to raise $1,250,000, if the voters favor the move, so that improvements can be made over a five years period.

The sums allotted for the proposed improvements follow: Parks, playgrounds and acquiring land need therefore, $100,000; sanitary sewers, $450,000; storm sewers, $200,000; streets and improvements thereto, $350,000, and widening and improvement of the Neshannock creek wall, $150,000.

The ordinances will be sent to state officials with the request that the state officials furnish the city with any suggestions that the state may wish to make.

Let Contract For Bridge Approach Paving On North

When council convened formally at the city building today a contract was given to Woods and Golder at a low bid of $5,387.50 for the paving with brick of North street between Neshannock and Croton avenues. The work will commence as soon as possible.

The bridge across the Neshannock creek is nearly completed. Owing to lack of money council did not let a contract for repaving of North street between East street and Neshannock avenue Woods and Golder presented the low and only bid and should council be able to find enough money this contract will be out through this fall.

Aged Man Injured, Skull Is Fractured

PITTSBURGH, July 28.—No explanation could be offered by police today as to what injured a 65-year-old man who was brought to Allegheny hospital in a dying condition by two men who did not give their names. 60,000 Boy Scouts Begin Their Jamboree Wednesday

Greatest International Gathering Of Organization Marks Twenty-First Anniversary Of Its Founding

The world, Boy Scout jamboree which opens Wednesday at Birkenhead, England, has summoned from every corner of the world more boys than have ever been gathered elsewhere at any one time. There will be something like 60,000 Boy Scouts congregated under tents at Arrowe Park when the bugle calls them into line for the opening pageant and parade to be reviewed by the Duke of Connaught, president of the Boy Scouts association of Great Britain and uncle of King George. In the line of the opening march will be some 1,300 boys from the United States, from nearly every state in the Union.

The first jamboree was held in London in 1908 and was the first great international "get-together" of scouts. There only a few thousand boys were congregated, but their meeting was heralded as a great international event. Then five years ago a similar and greater gathering was held at Copenhagen, Denmark. In each scouts from the United States played an important part, and trophies from Copenhagen won by the American troops are among the prized possessions of the national offices of the Boy Scouts in this city.

It was decided that contests should be eliminated for the present jamboree. So the scouts will present instead pageants of a national character with demonstrations of scouting activities as carried on in their several lands. For two weeks these boys will camp together, play together and unite in these exhibitions and pageants.

Leaders of the Boy Scout movement in this and other countries feel that the jamboree is likely to have a lasting effect upon the future goodwill of the world through the fraternizing influence of 60,000 boys brought together in the common interests and ideals of the scout movement. There boys are concentrating on Liverpool—the port for Birkenhead and four miles away from it—reads like a page from an atlas and gazetteer. It includes the following:

Albania, Armenia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Bulgaria, Chile, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Ecuador, Egypt, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Holland, Hungary, Iceland, Japan, Latvia, Liberia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Mexico, Norway, Panama, Peru, Persia, Poland, Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Yugoslavia, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Australia, Bahamas, Barbados, British Guiana, Burma, Canada, Ceylon, Cyprus, Falkland Island, Gambia, Gibraltar, Gold Coast, Hong Kong, India, Jamaica, Kenya, Malaya, Malta, Newfoundland, New Zealand, Nigeria, Northern Rhodesia, Southern Rhodesia, Palestine, Trinidad and Tobago, St. Vincent, Union and South Africa.

The camping ground for the jamboree was formerly the great Leverhulme estate of some 400 acres, purchased as a recreation park by the city of Birkenhead a year or two ago with the old Manor House, which will be the jamboree headquarters. A generous acreage has been set apart for the American camp which will front on a main camp street called Kingsway, but which is bordered by another street, named quite appropriately Washington Plantation. The American scouts are to be encamped between two groups of British Boy Scouts from east England and south England—Essex and Hampshire—to be exact.

Held 15-Ring Circus. The tents of the Boy Scouts of America will be arranged about a central square which will be the main assembly place for the American contingent, and where some of the games and activities may take place, although, as the arrangements now stand, most of these activities are scheduled to take place at a central point.

The jamboree arena where the great programs and demonstrations will take place will, in form, be a huge 15-ring circus. Each of the "rings" will be a square, so to speak, 30 feet on a side. Because of the great number of boys it will be necessary to have simultaneous demonstrations by scouts of different nations. Most of the program will partake of the character of "patrol" activities and special "patrol" demonstrations. Each display will be approximately ten minutes in duration.

An effort has been made to take many things typically American to show to the scouts of the world. Some of the following will give an idea of the extensive plans in this direction: For instance, scouts from Syracuse, N. Y., will live in a complete Adirondack wilderness camp, with a lean-to typical of that type of camp. They will make many types of baskets of handicraft, activities. Belts of Wampum like those made from the sea shore shells by the Long Island Indians and some of which were truly works of art, are to be worn by the jamboree scouts of Nassau county.

Will Play La Crosse. Another instance where the Indian idea will be used will be at the camp of the Itasca troop, which will consist of scouts from Minnesota and the Dakotas. They are setting up an Ojibway Indian longhouse. They will make the Indian pipe of peace—the Calumet—from Minnesota's famous pipestone. The troop from Indianapolis, Ind., will take with them a "covered wagon" reproducing the historic prairie schooner.

New Orleans, La., and Stamford, Conn., scouts will take with them and demonstrate their "Pine Tree" patrol equipment, a scouting activity in which they are especially proficient. From the Pacific northwest and sponsored by the Seattle, Wash., council will go to a troop representing woodsmen of the northwest and camping like them.

Houston, Texas, scouts will camp as plainsmen and plains Indians, giving Indian and cowboy demonstrations. The Newtonville, Mass., jamboree troop will be equipped for camping as the ancient Norumbega tribe of Indians when discovered by the Puritans. The scouts of Rome, N. Y., will make archery tackle. These are only a few to give a picture of what is going to happen.

The southwestern scouts, who will represent plains Indians, will be prepared to play the game of la crosse.

as the Indians of their area played it, with two la crosse sticks. Other typical American games are to be played by American scouts, such, of course, as baseball, basketball and volleyball. Many American scouts took with them samples of American scout handicraft for the purpose of exchanging samples with their fellow scouts from other lands.

For the first week, after the opening on July 31, the jamboree activities will be at the camp. For the second week there will be outside activities with trips by American boys over the English countryside and visits to English homes.

Conference Tent Ready For Service

Camp Tents Also Being Erected For Missionary Conference Next Week

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, July 29.—With the opening of the New Wilmington Missionary conference less than a week in the future the big tabernacle tent has already been erected and the special kitchen put in shape for use. Fear of a loss of time from bad weather this week caused the construction crew to spread the canvas early.

The conference workers started this week by rushing work on the building of the camp which consists of tents on the athletic field. Arranging furniture and attending to different details will also occupy the workers until the conference opens on Friday.

Beside the tabernacle tent and the camp facilities the two Westminster college dormitories and parts of the new college administration building will be open for the use of the delegates. The conference dining room will be identical with the playing floor of the college gymnasium.

Word was received here this week that William Lewis Westminster, athlete had been appointed to the position of swimming instructor on the faculty of Union High school in Turtle Creek. Mr. Lewis graduated from college this spring and is now a swimming instructor in the summer school at Turtle Creek. He is one of a number of Westminster students who are employed in that capacity this summer.

Russell Hyler who is attending the University of Pittsburgh summer sessions spent the week end in New Wilmington.

Edwin Short of Pittsburgh is now spending a part of his vacation here.

York Woman Writes California Governor To Save Killer From Gallows

YORK, Pa., July 29.—Continuing her efforts to save her son from the gallows, Mrs. Catharine Beitzel, this city, dispatched by air mail a letter to Governor C. C. Young of California, pleading with him to commute the death sentence of Russell St. Clair Beitzel to that of life imprisonment.

"Dear Governor:—I am the mother of Russell St. Clair Beitzel, who has been sentenced by you to be hanged. I beg of you to have mercy and save my boy from the gallows. Despite the evidence I believe that Russell is telling the truth when he says he is innocent. Please commute his sentence to life imprisonment and earn the gratitude of a mother who will pray daily the remainder of her life for your protection and salvation. Respectfully,

"MRS. CATHARINE BEITZEL."

Chicago Speed Law Dooms Old Autos

By FRANCIS F. HEALY
International News Service Staff
Chicago, July 29.—The collector flavor of the old junk which hereabouts have been about the city streets and county highways are doomed.

With the recent change in the state law permitting pleasure automobiles to travel at 45 miles per hour, the decrepit machines are gradually being led to the graveyard under the new policy of police.

Speed, it appears, now prevails upon the highways and broad boulevards of Chicago. During heavy traffic hours, most automobiles whizz to the downtown section, or, in the evening to their homes at a speed rarely less than forty miles per hour, and usually greater.

Traffic cops appear to accept the new policy with shoulder shrugs.
How, they might ask, can a poor motorcycle cop arrest several thousand motorists at one time when all are exceeding the lawful speed limit by as many as twenty miles-an-hour? It can't be done.

True, the "leader" of the band can be arrested when he attempts to pass other cars but it seems in most cases there never is a leader, only an endless procession.

Narrow, 18-foot highways are clogged with excursionists to the country and forest preserves. From four o'clock in the afternoon to late at night, the procession of automobiles travel at a snail-like pace with confusion and long stops at highway intersections. This is to be remedied in the near future when a vast highway-widening program gets under way.

But on week-days, if an automobile can go at least twenty-five or thirty miles an hour in traffic its driver becomes the target for "bul-litting" remarks and is often ordered off the road by the "coppers".

Half a dozen bottles and flasks were seized from tables and placed in a corner.

Wilson arrested Edward Pilon, 24, alleged proprietor; Anthony Verdi, 28, manager, and Anthony K. Nauer, 23, waiter, all of Pittsburgh, and lodged them in the Meadville jail to appear today for a hearing. Wilson claimed he had several "boys" from waiters.
After the raid Wilson reported to District Attorney Stuart Culbertson.
Hotel Conneaut manager, J. E. Kelley, today closed the club indefinitely and the Peyton orchestra, which usually plays in the big dining room at meal time, gave away to a radio
today.

Federal agents later raided a park cottage where they seized four gallons of liquor and 15 quarts of beer in a car outside.

Chinese Troops Reported Massed On Border Line

Thirteen Thousand Chinese
Troopers Move Into Vicinity Of Manchuli

TOKIO, July 29.—Movement of Chinese troops toward the Manchurian border continued today, according to advices received here.

Thirteen thousand Chinese troops are reported to be massed in the vicinity of Manchuli and General Yu
Hesuh Chung's forces at Lwanchow Chihli Province, have been ordered to reinforce the armies along the border.
Martial law has been proclaimed in the Western districts of Sigan.
While reports received here stated that Chinese soldiers were digging trenches and constructing battery emplacements at Hsiao and Sigan.

With conditions in a state of flux the border, it was feared, according to word received here, that the principal danger would be from the Guerilla attacks of Mongolian bandit bands, which are reported to have the backing of the Soviet government.

Advices received from Hsiao declared the merchants there feared Chinese looting if and when withdrawals began.

Exonerate Driver In Fatal Accident

SHARON, July 29.—Philip Diskin,
Meadville motorist, was exonerated of blame for the death of Mrs. Julia Womer of Transfer, aunt of Dr. W.
A. Womer of Highland avenue, who was killed when a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Morrison, was struck by Diskin's car while crossing the road near Transfer last Sunday. A coroner's inquest into the case was held in Sharon by Coroner
W. J. McGrath.

Many witnesses were called. According to the testimony, both drivers saw each other coming, but Mrs.
Morrison believed that she had ample time to get across the road before the other car reached the spot. Mr. and Mrs. Diskin testified that their car was not going more than 25 miles an hour.

volunteered testimony.

The song service was led by Rev.
W. H. Armstrong and two special song selections were sung by a choir of 12 voices, Miss Margaret Owey accompanied at the piano.
Following the sermon and several prayers several hands were raised for prayer. The meetings are held every evening at 8 o'clock. They will continue until August 4.

Dear Brother Lion:—

EQUAL?
Jack Warwick, eminent paragrapher, says that possibly some people are handicapped with the thought that the Declaration of Independence makes them the equal of anybody.
The cold fact is there is no such thing as human equality in this world.
No matter what the learned Thomas Jefferson wrote about all men being created equal there's nothing to it, except in the sense that they have, theoretically, equal rights so long as they behave themselves. But in reality there is no equality. You are not as good as the next man until you have done something to deserve that classification. And so Jack Warwick is right. Anybody who thinks the Declaration of Independence made him the equal of anybody or everybody is still asleep.

Pittsburgh Thugs Get Big Sum In Daring Holdup

Tech Food Products Company
Receipts For Week-End
Nabbed From Two Employees

HOLDUP OCCURS IN FRONT OF BANK

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 29.—Two bandits today held up two employees of the Tech Food Products company, in front of the Pennsylvania National bank here and took $10,000 in week-end receipts which the men were taking to the bank.

The employees of the company, Henry Koch and George Muskers, were stopped at the steps of the bank and the money snatched from their hands. The bandits escaped in an automobile.

Pedestrians who witnessed the hold-up failed to comprehend its significance for several minutes, so quickly and smoothly did the bandits operate. Then hurried calls brought police to the scene while the alarm was spread throughout the city.

Half in Cash
Half of the loot was in cash and the other half in checks, according to C. H. Ridall, president of the company. He estimated the bag contained between $10,000 and $11,000.

Detectives armed with sawed-off shotguns took up the trail of the bandits shortly after the holdup occurred. Other officials similarly armed cruised through the streets in ever widening circles as the search for the men progressed. No trace of the bandits had been obtained an hour after the robbery.

The scene of the holdup, police said, offered an excellent chance for the bandits to make a clean fast getaway. The robbery occurred in front of the bank situated at "a fork of the road"—where Butler and Thirty-fourth streets cross Penn avenue.

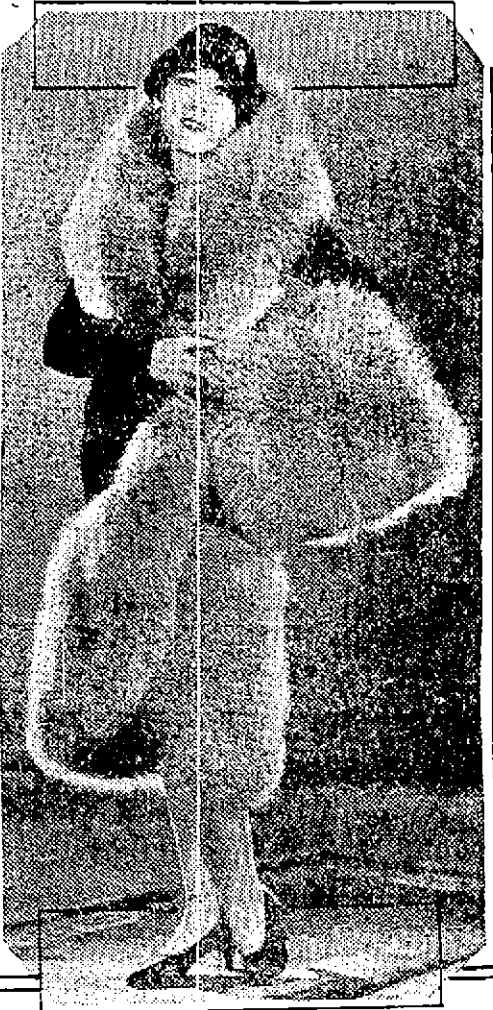

Following the general directions of pedestrians who witnessed the hold-up, however, automobiles loaded with police swept through the district and it was believed that the bandits had not traveled far from the scene.

Negotiations For Naval Conference Opened In London

Hope To Bring About Five-Power Conference In Washington This Winter

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Negotiations for an Anglo-American naval agreement, which will serve as the foundation stone for the five-power naval disarmament conference that President Hoover hopes to see held this winter, begin in earnest in London today. They will continue throughout the week, and probably well into August.

Success or failure of the projected conference probably hinges on the outcome of these London conversations. Washington generally believes that the negotiations will produce the desired formula of British-American accord, although there is no disposition here to minimize the difficulties inherent in the situation.

Hugh S. Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, and America's chief representative at the abortive Geneva conference, where Anglo-American differences proved the rock upon which the conferences broke up, has been ordered from his post at Brussels to assist Ambassador Charles G. Dawes in the negotiations with the MacDonald labor government. He is familiar with the difficulties as is probably no other American, and he is dealing this time with a different British viewpoint—the MacDonald viewpoint, anxious to improve British-American relations, instead of the story viewpoint of the late Baldwin government.

The atmosphere in which the London negotiations are continued this week is considerably less tense than at Geneva, and in this fact officials here see much hope.

Informal Agreement
Probably the greatest contributing factor to this easing of the tension has been the informal agreement between President Hoover and Premier MacDonald to suspend cruiser building in both British and American yards. Heretofore the conferences have always met in an atmosphere punctuated by the sounds of rivet-hammering in new ships on both sides of the Atlantic.

The White House continues to be flooded with messages pro and con on the President's action in suspending building of the 15 new cruisers which Congress insisted be laid down during the next three years to make up American deficiency in this class of vessels.

The messages of approbation, however, far exceeded those of condemnation.

The "big navy" group in Congress is up in arms over Mr. Hoover's action and is denying his authority for the move under the plain language of the law. Mr. Hoover, however, remains serenely undisturbed over the furor and is counting upon Congress specifically approving his act, if and when it comes down to that.

Nearly all the Democrats are ready and willing to support the White House in the issue, as are the insurgent Republicans of the Birch-Norris type. In addition, the President can count upon the support of the regulars who "go along" with the White House upon any given issue. In a test it is believed the President would win, hands down, despite the stubborn opposition set up by the greater navy advocates.

Briand's Plans Meet Failure In Cabinet Forming

Radical Socialists Refuse To Participate In Coalition
French Cabinet

DECIDES TO KEEP FORMER CABINET

By ROBERT W. THOMPSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PARIS, July 29.—Plans of Premier-designate Aristide Briand to form a coalition cabinet failed today when the radical socialists refused to participate.

Thereupon, M. Briand decided to retain the former Poincare cabinet intact with himself holding the posts of premier and foreign minister.

It was expected that M. Briand would visit President Doumergue, of France, later in the day to announce the completion of his task of forming a new government.

The radical socialists rejected the invitation to join the ministry when Edouard Herriot, their leader was offered a post of minister without portfolio on condition he accepted M. Briand's policies, other radical socialist chiefs said they were dissatisfied with his offer.

sign office early in the afternoon to confer with President Doumergue. "I shall inform President Doumergue that I intend to retain the old cabinet," M. Briand told International News Service.

Former Premier Raymond Poincare, who resigned because of illness, was informed of the offer of a cabinet post to the radical socialists. There were no radical socialists in his government.

Barring unforeseen events, it was anticipated that the new cabinet would meet tonight for organization.

Market Prices Shrink Today

By W. S. COLEMAN
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, July 29.—Stock prices fell off two to eight points on the big board during the first three hours today as the result of a heavy outpouring of the high-priced speculation that have been dancing among the clouds in the last few weeks, reaching the highest levels in their history.

Thotgoewite hand of the people was seen in the action of the market today. Wall Street sized up the situation in a desire of most of the pools to "hand out" their stocks to investors and others at this time, when another squeeze in the money market appeared in the making. Once again the Reserve Board heads were accused of tightening up the strings on money supplies by forcing about $250,000,000 of their holdings of government bonds and bankers acceptance on the market. The farmers need the money, say the bankers and the Stock Market for the time being was play second fiddle.

The heaviest losses were of course recorded in the speculative favorites which led the hilarious upward move in the last three weeks. At 358 General Electric was down 10 1/2 points but still hung way up from the low price of the month. American T. & E. fell dropped off seven points to 250, down 14 points from the week's peak. New York Central led the down move in the rails, with a 7 1/2 point drop to 228. Westinghouse (bed 9 1/2 to 19 1/2; International T. &

Tel sold off about three points and North American six points to 196 1/2.

Stocks fell into a soft cushion of bargain-hunting and short-covering buying orders in the forenoon, but when these were exhausted prices fell through the so-called support levels.

Local Youths At Fort Washington Shoot For Record

BIG LEAGUE STARS AMONG CAMP VISITORS

By FRANCIS TINSLEY
Special Correspondent of The New Castle News
FORT WASHINGTON, Md., July 28.—On Thursday, Company M, C. M. T. C. regiment, at Fort Washington spent the day on the range firing for record with the machine gun. The E target was used, at a distance of 1,000 inches.

Each man was coached by a capable non-commissioned officer and there were only three who joined the "bolo squad", composed of those who failed to qualify. Their duty is to pull up the brass which is trying to hide the Co. M tents.

Headed by the incomparable Walter Johnson himself, a group of American League stars visited the camp Friday morning. They arrived at 10:45 and greeted the battalion from the speakers' stand on the parade ground. Nick Altrock and Al Schacht put on a few of their famous stunts for the boys. This feature was arranged by Major Pollock.

The boys then had an opportunity to secure an autographed baseball when a platoon was stationed on the parade ground and the players batted an autographed ball to them. It was interesting to see the mac scramble for the coveted leather sphere.

Many Trespassers Killed By Trains

Some 266 Are Victims In Pennsylvania During Year
Reports Show

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—Train-riding hoboes had a bad year in Pennsylvania in 1928, according to a report just issued by the Interstate Commerce commission. A total of 22 hoboes were killed and 15 were injured in train accidents last year in the state. In the country as a whole, 424 hoboes were killed and 528 were injured in railroad mishaps.

Train-riding hoboes stay away from Vermont, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island, or else trains and trainmen in these three states entertain a greater respect for the knights of the rail than is exhibited by trains and train personnel in Pennsylvania. All three of the states reported neither fatalities nor injuries to hoboes riding the rods in 1928.

The casualties to railroad trespassers of all classes in Pennsylvania last year ranked highest of all states in the union, 266 trespassers being killed and 215 injured. Of the 266 trespassers on railroad property killed in Pennsylvania accidents, 62 were walking along the track when hit, 15 were crossing the tracks at other places, and 33 were riding on or getting on or off trains.

Of the injured, 50 were walking along the track, 14 were crossing the tracks at public highway crossings, 35 were crossing the tracks at other places, and 88 were riding on or getting on or off trains. Eight of the dead and 13 of the injured were railroad employees, and 27 of the fatalities and 34 of the injured were individuals under 14 years of age.

GOT WONDERFUL RESULTS FROM NEW MEDICINE

Says Lady, 76, After Ten Herbs Swept Away All Her Health Troubles.

If you suffer from stomach, liver, kidney or bowel trouble, rheumatism, neuritis or nervousness, profit by the experience of thousands of men and women of this section who have found lasting relief from such health troubles by using Ten Herbs. The ten wonderful natural ingredients of this famous medicine have a cleansing, soothing, correcting action on the whole riding human system. Learn more about Ten Herbs by calling at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where this new compound is being introduced.

"Ten Herbs certainly made a wonderful change for the better in my health," was the recent statement of Mrs. Margaret A. Edwards, 76 years old, 408 Mitchell Avenue, Butler, Pa. "A severe attack of flu had left me in a badly run-down condition. My appetite was very poor, and my stomach was out of order. I had endured the worst kind of trouble with my nerves for the last four years. I could not rest well at night, and would arise in the morning with a dull headache and feeling very tired."

"Dizzy spells came on me, and my eyes would quiver terribly at times. I had headaches and severe pains across my shoulders. There were rheumatic pains in my hips, and the leaders of my neck would get sore and stiff. Even a little exertion would tire me. My vision would get blurred and specks would flash before my eyes. I could never get proper relief from constipation. My blood circulation was poor, as my hands and feet would get cold."

"A friend told me how Ten Herbs had helped others, so I started taking your medicine. Now my stomach is in splendid condition, and I have a good appetite. My nerves are all right. I sleep soundly and feel rested when I get up in the morning—no more headaches or dizzy spells. My eyes no longer trouble me, and backaches and pains across my shoulders have disappeared. Rheumatism has left my hip and the leaders of my neck. Constipation has been corrected, and my blood circulation seems to be normal."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and is sold by all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Injured Man Will Face Charges When He Quits Hospital

Charge Is Preferred Against Cage At Butler By State Police

BUTLER, Pa., July 29.—When George Cage, aged 35, of New Castle, leaves his bed in the Butler County Memorial hospital, he will be required to face a charge of allowing and permitting another to operate his automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, as a result of action taken by the highway patrol this morning. Bail was fixed at $1,000 by Alderman George R. Kearns for Cage's appearance Wednesday, provided he is able to do so.

Cage, Nick Trott and Carl L. Lutton, aged 29, all of New Castle, were proceeding toward Butler last Monday afternoon in an automobile belonging to Cage, when their machine collided with a coupe driven by C. C. Stranace of North Washington, near Muddy-creek church.

Lutton died an hour and a half later at the local hospital, to which Cage also was taken as a result of a fractured skull and broken jaw. Earlier this week Trott was fined $10 and costs by Alderman George R. Kearns on a charge of being intoxicated and disorderly on a public highway.

GROVE CITY

About 300 Old Timers attended the Old Timers picnic which was held at Memorial Park Friday evening. Old residents have been arriving all day from many cities of the United States for this special event and planning on making a visit with local friends during this time. Morgan Barnes of California was the master of ceremonies and a fine program was carried out. Miss Martha Conner was chairman of the excellent dinner which was served in such a fine order.

According to a report from the Grove City Hospital Saturday, the condition of Mrs. John Floyd, who was seriously injured when struck by an automobile Wednesday evening is still serious. On account of her age and the seriousness of the injury her condition is considered critical.

Miss Margaret Frew of Liberty street is making plans for the opening of a Kindergarten in the old Presbyterian church sometime during September. Miss Frew has taken special training along this line and has assured liberal support by a large number of the parents of Grove City youngsters.

Miss Sara Locke daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Locke of this place resumed her duties as Superintendent of nurses in the Osteopathic Hospital July 1st. Miss Locke is a graduate nurse of Washington Park Hospital Chicago.

The tables were decorated with sweet peas and pastel shades of summer flowers.

Miss Hazel Burrows entertained Thursday evening at her home on Elm street in honor of Miss Elizabeth Nossack who will become a bride very shortly. Four tables of bridge were in play during the evening.

Chief Livingston accented the "ghost," who gave the name of Michael Golsky, 53, of McKeesport in maintenance.

His spirit-like appearance was due to the fact that Michael was minus his outer garments. Golsky indignantly explained that he had been held up by three men in an automobile and that, after robbing him, they had forced him to remove his clothes, leaving him in his undergarments.

Six Meet Death Over Week-End, Near Pittsburgh

Three Men Dead As Result Of Auto Crashes; Three Youths Drowned In River

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 29.—Three men dead as result of automobile crashes and three boys drowned in the Pittsburgh area over the week end was the toll revealed by records of police today. A half dozen persons were injured in auto accidents. The machine in which W. E. Johnston, 35, and his brother-in-law, James Longmore, of Youngstown, O., were riding struck a stone mounting block in the street and was wrecked. Johnston was dead when taken to Presbyterian hospital. Longmore died shortly afterward. Robert Schramm, 35, of Allegheny, was killed near Cliff Mine when the machine in which he was riding left the road and struck a pole, catapulting him out. The alleged driver, Glenn Turney, of Allegheny, was released on $2,500 bond pending an inquest. Efforts of bathers to save Harry Thompson, 16, failed when his canoe capsized in mid-stream in the Allegheny river at Edgewater. Joe Volotta, 11, was drowned in a pool used for a swimming hole, in the Ohio river in Stone township. Claude Remy, 10, was drowned while swimming in Crystal Beach pool, Bethel township, when he was believed to have been seized by cramps. Bodies of the three youths all had been recovered today.

Maxwell Speaks At Y. M. C. A. Camp

Rev. Samuel Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church of this city, was the principal speaker at the Y. M. C. A. camp which took place Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

The subject of Rev. Maxwell's talk was "There Are No Short Cuts in Life." A crowd of some 30 visitors, in addition to the half hundred boys in camp, heard the address.

It's folly to suffer long from neuritis, neuralgia, or headaches when relief is swift and sure, with Bayer Aspirin. For 28 years the medical profession has recommended it. It does not affect the heart. Take it for colds, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago. Gargle it for a sore throat or tonsillitis. Proven directions for its many uses, in every package. All drug stores have genuine Bayer Aspirin which is readily identified by the name on the box and the Bayer cross on every tablet.

Hiker Walks 2000 Miles In 4 Years

Canada's Oldest Pedestrian Traveler Keeps On Seeing Country

EDMONTON, Alta., July 29.—Introducing Canada's oldest hiker, the hoary-headed Agapit Theriault of Paquetville, N. B., aged 77. Four years ago Theriault, armed with a small pack in which he carried the bare necessities of life, set out from his native town with the express intention of walking to the Pacific coast.

If he quits right now he has done enough to put a younger and more lethargic generation to shame. Recently he reached St. Paul, in northern Alberta, having covered on foot more than 2000 miles, with stops of not more than one or two days in any one place.

Interviewed in St. Paul, Theriault said he was enjoying life.

"I just wanted to see the country properly," he said.

"Why not from a train?" he was asked.

"No train wrecks, no dining saloons and no transportation costs," was the reply.

The hoary-headed pedestrian told his questioners he never stayed more than a day or two in any one place, but just wandered on in any vaguely west direction.

I usually hit a town or a farmhouse before I get played out, and people are always very kind."

From Edmonton he is starting his last and most difficult trek across the mountains to the coast. He expects to reach there in the late summer, will stay there a few months and then turn to the east again for Paquetville, N. B., and home.

Silent Welding For Coming Skyscraper

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 29.—That welding necessary to shape steel into great skyscrapers will soon be done silently is the belief of Gilbert D. Fish, Westinghouse Electric engineer. He predicts that men's nerves eventually will no longer be shattered by the machine-staccato of the engineer.

"Arc welding has proved entirely practicable and dependable," he said. "Too many structures have been erected by this method, all without failure, to dispute its feasibility. But it is too noisy."

Discussing the future of buildings, he said:

"We expect them a thousand feet high. The difficulty in the way is not an engineering feat but a problem of air and light. From an engineering standpoint there is no limit."

San Quentin Prison Has Too Many Cats

(International News Service)
SAN QUENTIN, July 29.—What a kittle? Just apply to Warden James B. Holohan, and he'll supply any order if you're not particular about "feline" feline.

In fact, San Quentin prison is literally "going to the cats." Somehow, they broke in, and thrived on penitentiary fare. Then came kittens aplenty.

So the distracted warden is willing to parole kittens in carload lots, retaining a few for pets.

Old 'Young' Couple Elope When Life Gets Lonesome

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 29.—Because they were "lonesome," Rev. Charles S. Hamilton, 80, and Mrs. Mary England Cox, 72, eloped.

For more than five weeks they kept the news a secret, as all youthful elopers try to do.

But Saturday it leaked out, and Mrs. Emma Galbraith of Media, sister of the bride, gave an explanation for the marriage. She said: "They both were lonesome and had the same ideas. I am sure their life will be one of sunshine."

Rev. Hamilton, pastor of Victoria Union Chapel, Swarthmore, is a Methodist minister. Mrs. Hamilton is a member of the Society of Friends. According to a relative of the bride, the couple were married by the Friends' ceremony on June 17, in Brooklyn.

Rev. Hamilton, whose first wife died five years ago, has a son and

Connecticut Wars On Fake Salesmen

(International News Service)
HARTFORD, Conn., July 29.—Connecticut is campaigning against people who sell insurance without observing the formality of obtaining a state license. One man has been sent to jail for a year and two others have been fined in a short period.

Explaining the situation, Howard P. Dunham, state commissioner of insurance says: "A person who cannot pass our examination is unfit to sell insurance. It is a danger to the public to have a man who does not understand insurance out in the field. The public looks to the insurance agent to prescribe his insurance action, not even bothering to look at the policies they have bought. If the agents who issue the policies do not themselves understand them it requires no elastic imagination to see what troubles are ahead for policy holders."

The commission also explains: "Unless a man is lacking in intelligence or is too lazy to prepare himself for the business there is no great difficulty about obtaining a license in Connecticut."

(International News Service)
HOULTON, Me., July 29.—The persistence and lung capacity of James J. Bowring, Jr., Red Cross swimming instructor, saved a $700 diamond ring for Mrs. Peggy Vose after she had lost it while swimming in deep water.

The ring slipped from Mrs. Vose's finger while she was swimming in 30 feet of water at Nickerson Lake. She was not sure at what point she dropped the ring and despaired of recovering the valuable gem. Bowring, however, went down 25 times to search for the ring and finally rose to the surface wearing it on his little finger.

Maine Horses Fewer But Better Grade

(International News Service)
BANGOR, Me., July 29.—The reduction in the number of horses used in Maine has resulted in an improvement in the quality of the animals now being utilized for farming and commercial purposes, according to the report submitted at the 36th annual convention of the Maine Horseholders and Blacksmiths Association.

The blacksmiths agreed that the horses which have come under their care in late years were of much better average weight, and grade than those used in the pre-automobile era.

America Gradually Gaining Supremacy Of Air, Is Now Belief

Recent Aviation Feats Places

Foreign Nations

St. Louis Airmen Up Over 300-Hours Praised By Senator Bingham
Today

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The United States is on its way to world supremacy in aviation.

This was the view of Congress today as a result of a fortnight of outstanding aerial achievements by American flyers. The landing of an army blimp on the capitol plaza here, the take-off and landing of a naval plane on an airplane carrier at night, far out in the Pacific, and the series of remarkable non-stop endurance flights by aviation enthusiasts in all parts of the continent were seen as new landmarks marking the development of commercial aviation.

Praises St. Louis Pair

Senator Hiram W. Bingham (R) of Connecticut, World War air veteran, praised the endurance flight of the St. Louis "Robin" as "a miracle of skill." He said the backers and pilots of the "Robin," as well as the pilots of a half dozen other endurance flights, were demonstrating to the world the supremacy of American aircraft manufacture and American ingenuity.

Senator Charles S. Deneen (R) of Illinois and Senator Henry Ashurst (D) of Arizona, joined with Bingham in lauding the individual efforts of aviation enthusiasts. They said the series of aerial achievements of the last few weeks had demonstrated the remarkable progress made by American aviation—a progress that is slowly carrying the United States to world supremacy in the air.

"The genius, initiative and intelligence of Americans is showing itself in the field of aviation," said Deneen. "It means that America will take the leadership in this new and great industry."

Forging Ahead

These successive feats, not only romantic but practical, demonstrate that America is reaching or soon will reach supremacy in the air. Ashurst added, "Much in the field of peaceful endeavor and in the interest of national defense. These developments show the wisdom of the policy adopted by Congress to aid commercial aviation at every turn."

Bingham, who has helped to father recent legislation aiding aviation, also pointed out the success of congressional policies. He referred to the naval achievement in the Pacific—the army's landing of a blimp on the capitol plaza—the endurance flights in commercial aviation—as demonstrating American progress in all three fields.

"I think these achievements demonstrate the success of having three specialists in charge of aviation in the army, navy and Commerce Departments," said Bingham. "High-grade men like McCracken, Davidson Ingalls and Warner have accomplished wonders."

"They justify the position taken by Congress on recommendation of the President's aircraft board. I only hope Congress will continue to make appropriations for the continued development of aviation as recommended by the three assistant secretaries in charge of this work."

No Longer Experiment

"These recent feats prove aviation is no longer experimental. The improvement alone of airplane engines is a miracle of science. During the war in France the best French motor had a life of but 60 hours and the best American motor—the Liberty—had to be overhauled after 100 hours in the air. It would have been a miracle then if an engine ran 50 consecutive hours even on a test block. Now we have motors running 300 hours continuously in the air."

"The endurance flights, which reveal engine faults as no other test can, and the refueling of planes in the air, are of tremendous military value. So, too, are the fears of the army dirigibles and navy aircraft in landing their ships within limited areas. All these accomplishments reveal a miracle of skill in America's aviation development."

Plane Circles Over City At Late Hour

Many New Castle residents observed an airplane flying over the city at a great height about 10 o'clock last evening.

It carried several searchlights in front and red and green lights on the wings. It was so high that the purr of the motor could barely be distinguished.

It approached from a southwesterly direction and after circling about, proceeded south.

BREAK ALL ENDURANCE RECORDS

Not content with breaking all past endurance records for planes, Dale (Red) Jackson, left insert, and Forest O'Brien, right insert, dived steadily on above St. Louis. Photo shows plane being fueled.

Carranza entered the home last night while Eva Dayton, 16, John Keffer, 18, her companion, both of Dawson, were visiting. Carranza and Rodiaz lived at the same address. When the Mexican made insulting remarks to the Dawson girl, Rodiaz remonstrated. Carranza drew a knife, the witnesses said, and Rodiaz obtained a revolver. The shooting followed.

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—"Papa" Emilio Traversa had returned to Steubenville, O., today, with his daughter, Elizabeth Traversa, 20, and his prospective son-in-law, Albert Demetri, 25. Police blessings on the match were the last words heard by police as the would-be elopers were returned to their home, presumably to be married in formal style.

Oakland police had no sooner received a description of the elopers than they saw them drive past the station, into Schenley Park. The emergency squad departed in pursuit and found the lovers in their car, laying plans for the elopement culmination.

Miss Traversa and Demetri were held until "Papa" came for them and promised a real wedding and his blessing.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

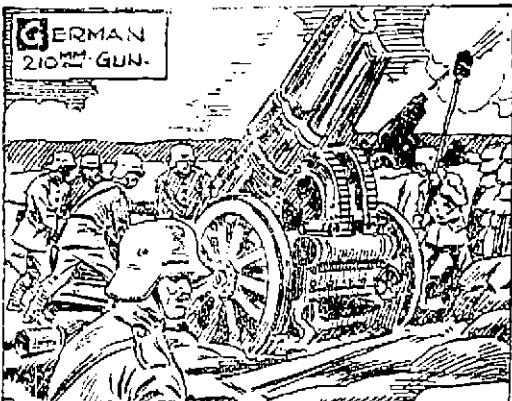

The Story Of The World War
72 The German Plan to Attack Verdun

EARLY IN 1916, VON FALKENHAYN, CHIEF OF THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND, BEGAN MASSING HIS RESERVES FOR AN ATTACK UPON VERDUN, THE MIGHTY CITADEL ON WHICH THE CENTER OF THE ALLIED LINE IN FRANCE PIVOTED. THE ATTACK WAS TO BE MADE BY THE ARMY OF CROWN PRINCE FRIEDRICH WILHELM.

GENERAL LUDENDORFF OF THE GERMAN ARMY LATER SAID, "THE ATTACK ON VERDUN WAS NOT UNDERTAKEN WITH THE OBJECT OF DESTROYING THIS MOST POWERFUL FORTRESS OF FRANCE. WE HOPED, RATHER, THAT WE SHOULD BE ABLE, WHILE USING ONLY A SMALL AMOUNT OF OUR OWN FORCES AND MATERIAL, TO INFLICT A DEEP WOUND ON THE FRENCH ARMY FROM WHICH IT WOULD SLOWLY BLEED TO DEATH."

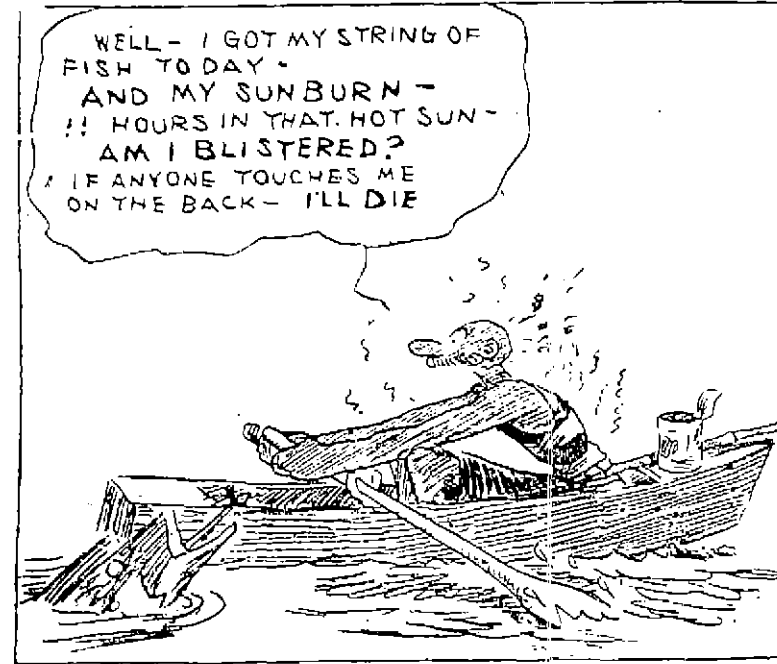

FEBRUARY 21, 1916, THE ATTACK BEGAN BEYOND THE MEUSE. MASSIVE BATTERIES OF HEAVY GUNS BOMBARDED THE FRENCH OUTER POSITIONS FOR TWELVE HOURS. MORE THAN A MILLION SHELLS FELL IN THE ATTACKED AREA, OBLITERATING TRENCHES, BUILDINGS, WOODS AND ROADS, AND LEFT IT A DESOLATE, POCK-MARKED WASTE.

WHEN REGIMENTS OF PICKED TROOPS ADVANCED TO THE ASSAULT, THE FRENCH WERE DAZED BY THE TERRIFIC SHELLING, BUT QUICKLY RALLIED AND RESISTED DESPERATELY. FEBRUARY 25, THE GERMANS CAPTURED FORT DOUAUMONT, A STRONG OUT-POST OF VERDUN. THE GERMANS HAD PLANNED TO TAKE VERDUN IN FOUR DAYS, BUT THE BATTLE THEY HAD BEGUN WAS DESTINED TO LAST NEARLY SEVEN MONTHS. TOMORROW—PROPOSED BRITISH COUNTER-OFFENSIVE.

Gitlitz And Jones Await Bell At Jolly Bowl

Heavyweights To Meet First Time

Scarney-Dudas Six Round Battle Attracting Lots Of Interest

THREE OTHER GOOD BOUTS ARRANGED

By ED FRITZ
Murray Gitlitz, New York and Billy Jones, Philadelphia, will head a heavyweight fight show tonight at Jolly Bowl and according to Bill Jolly, connoisseur of fighting pastimes, indications point to his palace of punch being filled to the rafters when the timekeeper declares the bell at nine o'clock daylight savings time.

Gitlitz and Jones have been in the city several days and each is reported in superb fighting condition. Gitlitz recently boxed a draw with Babe Hunt at Tulsa, Okla., but is popularly accredited with having defeated Hunt. Jones' most recent pugilistic accomplishment was a victory over Tony Puente.

The heavyweights topped off their week's training at Jimmy Dime's gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Neither participated in a boxing duel for fear of a sprain or broken hand might handicap them tonight. Gitlitz and his rival seemed on edge and their managers declared their proteges ready for the fight of their careers. It will be their first meeting.

Murray is pronounced the most promising Jewish fighter for top-notch honors. He has met many of the best heavyweights and has always given a splendid account of himself. Jones has boxed anybody who would fight him, regardless of weight and tonight's battle will probably be a close affair with breaks weighing heavily.

Scarney Versus Dudas
Harold Scarney, youthful Youngstown heavyweight will meet Joe Dudas, a rusting, rough type who trains along the farm lands of Albion Pa. Dudas captured the 1927 amateur heavyweight championship of Cleveland and since has been fighting successfully and gave Tiny De Bolt a hot scramble in a 10 round bout.

There will be hundreds of fans follow Scarney and at the same time come to see Walter Pickard, Youngstown, who believes he is as good as Scarney. Walter is slated to fight Don La Rue of Toledo, who is in Ad Thutcher's line of fighting men. Pickard comes a terrific punch. La Rue is reported to be a rough and willing mixer.

The Scarney-Dudas and Pickard-La Rue bouts are scheduled for six rounds each. In the four round preliminary Maxie Brown and Frank Munroe will clash again and Joe Midway, New Castle will tackle Henry Aitel in the opening quartette of rounds. Midway and Aitel are not long on science but toss hard punches.

Weight In At Three
All of the fighters will weigh in at three o'clock this afternoon at the Jolly Bowl. Owing to the prominence of Jones and Gitlitz a large crowd will be present to drink in this sight as it generally acts as an appetizer to the tried and found blue fighting fan. After that they will rest until the call to the ring.

Bill Jolly promoter of the Evening's Events declares that the reservations for tonight's embroglio have exceeded all contests but the Davies-Wolcott battle at a new scale of prices. Ring-siders are paying three dollars and the other choice seats have brought two. The bleacher fans will pay $1.50 for tonight's sera.

The officials will not be named until five minutes before the bell rings.

GAME POSTPONED
The Slovak-Hillsville game scheduled for tonight at Hillsville in the Hillsville field will not be played. It was learned today. The contest will be played off at a later date.

LIKELY AS NOT
Mrs. Jones—My dear, dead husband never complained of my cooking.
Mr. Jones (her second venture)—Perhaps that's why he's your dear dead husband.—Pathfinder.

Paul Waner and Grantham, hurt in a collision on the ball field Friday, may return to the Pirates' line-up today.

The Davis cup will remain in France, as Cochet beat Lott.

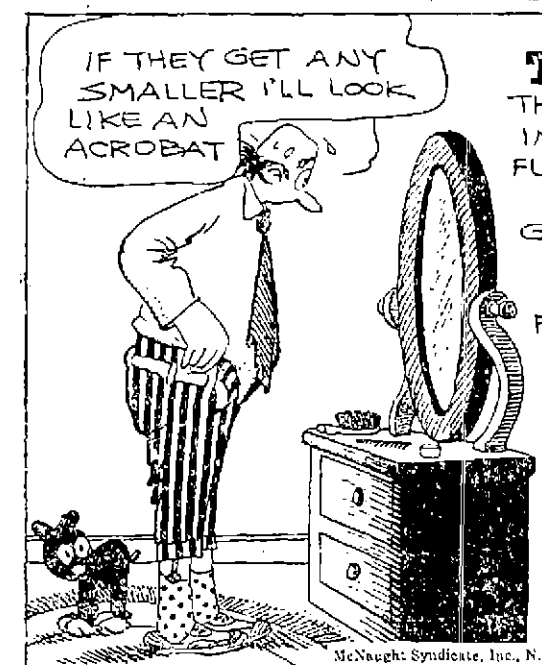

Huff got a run and hit when the Agathons beat the Boston Braves, 2-0 at Dennison, O., yesterday.

Joe Harris, former Pirate, at Franklin, has refused several offers to play semi-professional baseball.

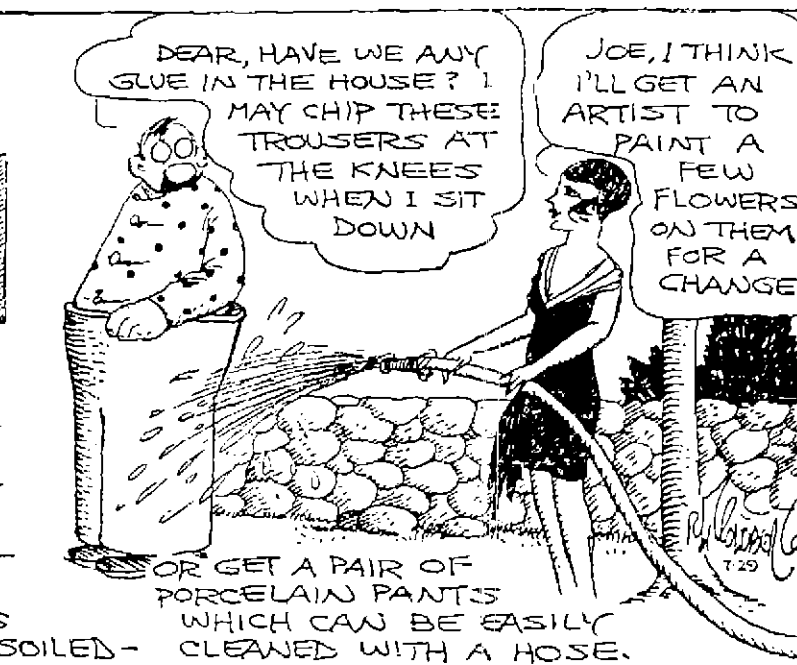

Young Stribling and Babe Hunt clash Tuesday night at Tulsa. It is the same Hunt that boxed Murray Gitlitz.

Sports And Stunts At Park Picnic Will Be "Frabjous"

Football Kicking Contest For Woman At Big Consistory Picnic Voted Down

Reporter Learns That Picnic Will Be Last Of Any Consensus Sequence During July

It was a cool night, but the group had its coats off. This was to show that they were working. The modern man can no more do mental work in summer with his coat on than a fisherman could catch a bass with a plug hat on. The man, not the bass, that is to say, the hat is not on the bass, it's on the man. It makes it any plainer to you, than a man with a plug hat on could catch a bass.

So, you will understand, it was a dignified and purposeful group of men. It was, in fact, a committee. We may as well confess the whole thing. It was the sports committee for the Consistory picnic which takes place on the date of that remarkable event nearer.

The Consistory is a large organization. It has 8,000 members or so. In the formation of the countless committee on sports whose meeting we chronicle the entire membership was put through a fine screen, in order to pick out the most original-minded, cleverest inventors of sports that are fun, that the whole membership afforded.

These were now gathered at a meeting. "Football-kicking contest for the ladies," some one was suggesting as we entered the meeting without invitation. "Pole-vaulting contest for the fat men."

"No-changing race for the heads of families!" "That's out," ruled the chairman. "We can't have any swearing. All the women and children in ten counties will be present."

"This picnic takes in 11 counties!" "Well, I just got word," replied the chairman, "that two children from one county are going to be absent. Their parents broke down."

"Flag pole sitting contest!" "Have 'em push a peanut up a telegraph pole with their nose!" At this point Ralph S. Reed, chairman of the committee, espied your correspondent sitting over in a corner with his coat on.

"Take that coat off," said the chairman. "I'm not on the committee," we replied. "Then what are you doing here?" "Trying to report the meeting of the sports committee of the Consistory picnic," said we with brilliant wit. "If you do that you have to put down the committee."

"All right, shoot," said we in the vernacular of the racketeer. So at this point we insert the committee. Ralph S. Reed is chairman and the other members are Charlie Allen, Bill Klee, George Bechtel, Ed Fritz, D. D. Potter, Harold (Spider) Sampson, Bill Dunlap the younger and Harry Urmon.

Now, that's reporting, getting a list like that. Names make news, as any good reporter like us will tell you. Probably there isn't any other news in this article. Everybody knows that the Scottish Rite picnic is next Wednesday, July 31, at Cascade park.

As you will see from the date, it is the last picnic that will be held this month by anybody. All other picnics this summer will have to be held in August. Well, the meeting of the sports committee went on. Not one single solitary thing that is really going to happen in the way of sports would they let us tell. It's all a secret.

But on a bunch of cards which Stan Trester had brought was a lot of words. Each card had one word on it, and each word was an adjective. "These adjectives," said Stan, "describe the sports and stunts program. You draw six of them and use them in your story."

So we drew six cards and learned that the sport and stunts program would be "amusing," "hilarious," "infrigid," "varied," "clever" and "frabjous."

"What's frabjous?" we asked. "Frabjous," said Stan, "is something I got out of a book. It is a book once, and a fellow in the story called everything that was more than common good 'frabjous.' So I put that on a card."

"You would," said Chairman Reed. "Of course I would," said Stan. "Well, I said you would," said Reed. "Well, didn't I say I would," said Stan.

You can see what clever fellows this committee is made up of. The conver-

ROCCO AND PARIS CANGEY TO BATTLE

Rocco Meets Risko In Cleveland And Cangey Boxes At Braddock

Emmett Rocco, Ellwood City's foremost disciple of punch, and Johnny Risko, Cleveland, clash a second time tonight at the Public Auditorium, Cleveland, and the bout in Cleveland and circles is regarded as a "natural".

Rocco and Risko fought some weeks ago and at the conclusion of the 12-round fight, Frankie Van, the referee, gave the decision to Rocco. Risko and his clan opposed the award but the Rocco element declared the decision was fair and just.

Efforts to pair them off in a second bout looked slim until a few weeks ago when the fight was arranged for the ball field. A shift carried tonight's battle to the Public hall and it is expected to be filled up long before the fight starts.

Emmett has trained faithfully for the bout at Conneaut Lake. He returned Saturday to Ellwood City, spent the night at the home of his parents and left yesterday for Cleveland. There are some who believe that Risko was out of shape in the first fight and that he will turn the tables on Rocco but the Roccoites do not believe this.

While Rocco is battling at Cleveland, Paris Kid Cangey, the New Castle lightweight, will be punching with Teddy Welch in the semi-final of the Tony Herrera-Tommy Crawley fight. Welch is a fighter who keeps battling all of the time. He whips rights and lefts with good effect. Cangey has a beautiful left hook.

P. S.—After going to great pains and much expense in producing this story, your correspondent learns that the committee double-crossed us by printing the program in Saturday's News.

Wampum Defeats Pennsy Team 8-5

Hennon, Catbich For P. R. R. Features Fine Game With Two Home Runs

The Wampum team under the tutelage of Robert "Bob" Robertson, hung an 8 to 5 defeat on the Pennsy railroad team, Saturday afternoon, in a Lawrence County League game. The game was featured by the heavy hitting of Hennon for the Pennsy team, this youngster busting the old apple for a pair of home runs. It was a booster game for Wampum and was well attended.

Brakovich on the rubber for Wampum pitched a fine game, holding the Railroaders to right hits and fanning twelve batters. Braky contributed to the Wampum hit column with a double, and also tallied a run. Coates on the mound for the P. R. R. was found for twelve hits.

R. Buccell at short for Wampum, made a lot of noise with his bat, getting a triple and two singles. Grinnem, Mundo and Houk also hit timely for the victors.

New Castle Hurlers Get Rough Treatment

Mickie Huff And Jack Reider Play Bang-up Ball As Agathons Defeat Boston Braves

New Castle's pitchers in organized baseball did not fare so well over the week-end.

On Saturday Harold "Had" Haid on the knoll for the Cardinals was beaten 4 to 3 by the Giants. Haid pitched a fine six-hit game, but the Cards failed to hit effectively behind the former New Castleite.

Yesterday Joe Hartman on the hill for Montreal, against Buffalo was removed from the box after a good start and Buffalo took the victory 4 to 3 for a twin killing as the Bisons also took the first game 11 to 7.

Paul McCullough sent to the rubber by Birmingham, ran into a wicked Memphis attack and was shelled from the box in the fourth inning, when the Chicks made five runs. McCullough was relieved by Van Alstyne, Birmingham lost 7 to 1 in an abbreviated contest.

Mickie Huff, seventh ward boy, at second for Massillon in the exhibition game against the Boston Braves, was the featured player of the game, socking out a home run and handling six chances without a bobbie. Jackiehardt, Midge Gladman, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Mrs. Charlotte Hoemer Chapin, all present day or one time California champions, Mary Greef of Kansas City; Mrs. Hazel Hochkiss Wightman of Boston; the Palfrey sisters and Mrs. J. California Tennis Stars Seek Honors

By MALCOLM ROY
International News Service Special Correspondent
SEA BRIGHT, N. J., July 29.—California's lawn tennis stars who have made history on the courts for the last dozen years or more will have an opportunity to add another chapter or two to their tales of triumph in the 42nd annual invitational tournament for the historic Sea Bright bowls which begin on the courts of the Sea Bright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club here this afternoon.

Helen Jacobs, runner up to Helen Wills, the international champion, in both the American Women's Championship last year and the Wimbledon title matches last month, is favored to take back to California again the Women's Bowl which she won for the first time in 1928. The young California girl will have to conquer some of the stiffest opposition the courts afford, for with the exception of Miss Wills, virtually every ranking woman player in the country will be in the fight on the ocean swept Sea Bright turf.

Many Stars Entered
Chief among the aspirants to wrest the women's bowl from the California girl are: Edith Cross, Ethel Burkhardt, Midge Gladman, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Mrs. Charlotte Hoemer Chapin, all present day or one time California champions; Mary Greef of Kansas City; Mrs. Hazel Hochkiss Wightman of Boston; the Palfrey sisters and Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere, also of Boston; Miss Molly Thayer of Philadelphia and a host of metropolitan women players including Miss Marie Fusterer, Miss Eleanor Goss and Miss Clara Green-spau.

Swinging over to the men's division, California again holds the center of the stage with John Doeg of Santa Monica as the outstanding ace in a group of stars which include Canadian, Japanese, South African and New Zealand Davis Cup players as well as the entire Oxford-Cambridge team and the cream of the American courts.

Dr. Jack Wright, the Canadian champion, Sadakazu Guda, Japanese Davis cup star, R. R. T. Found of New Zealand, N. G. Fargusson of South Africa and Paul De Ricou of France, the last three all members of the Oxford-Cambridge forces, are the leading foreign players.

Two games are on tap tonight in the New Castle Church league. The games, weather allowing, will start at 6:30 o'clock A. S. T.

The First Baptists will meet the Central Presbyterians at Croton with Rodgers umpiring. The Wesley M. E. team goes to Scotland Lane field to battle the First Methodists with Black the official.

France Retains Davis Cup For One More Year

Henri Cochet Brilliant French Star Assures France Cup Victory

AMERICA WILL WIN NEXT YEAR

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service
NEW YORK, July 29.—France, the champion nation of all the world of lawn tennis, is today on its throne today, the leader for another year, perhaps two, as the result of its victory yesterday in the Davis cup challenge round by three matches to two, but a leader whose dynasty cannot long prevail against the man power of America. As I see it, the abiding difference between the contending teams was that America used two men to win one match, whereas France needed only one man, Henri Cochet, to win two.

Cochet, hailed everywhere as the greatest of his day, alone stood between America and a reclamation of the cup. One man only beat the best we had by his victories in the singles over Bill Tilden and George Lott but the one man who won twice cannot last indefinitely while the two Americans who won once figure to keep on winning until the year grows weary of the matter.

Youngsters Look Good.
Ultimately, as water wears its hole in stone, this pair, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, must wear down France's resistance and prove the wedge that will pry the trophy from its moorings. They have assured us of at least one point in every Davis cup round to be played during the next five years. They have pointed the way to the American Davis cup committee with their victories at Wimbledon and in the challenge round against Borotra and Cochet and, from on the committee can have no recourse but to accept the talisman. They have established the fact that America soon is to win and that it is the young idea of the country who will do it. They have restored in a matter of a few hours, a semblance of the prestige we dissipated over a period of years.

Just a couple of brash kids whose previous acquaintance with Davis cup play was gained from the stands, they beat the best team France could muster in straight sets and did it as only champions can. At the age of 23 or less, they indubitably are the greatest doubles pair the world over today and the beauty of the situation is that they must become greater as the years concede them stability and experience. And so we know now that the Davis cup is coming back to America again. Allison and Van Ryn are our insurance against future defeat.

Mushball League

The Shenango Tin Mill mushball team defeated the Postoffice 7 to 4 in a game played last Friday at Lehigh field. Shackle on the hill for the Tin Mill pitchers pitched a fine game giving but five hits and fanning four men. Each hurling was hit hard in two innings, the fourth and fifth. Shackle, Roberts, Williams and Shaffer featured at bat. The fielding of the Tin Mill was airtight. The score by innings:

R. H. E.
Postoffice.....	010 003 0-4 5 2
Tin Mill.....	110 230 x-7 9 0
Batteries:	Tin Mill, Shackle, Trimble and Parker. Postoffice, Rich and McCann.

So far no move has been made for another round of mushball playing. The season is still good. Another round of play is keenly desired by the majority of the players in the league. Some definite action toward another series of games will be made in the next few days.

It would be pleasant to live another fifty years if only to see advertised in the magazines may still fall to be the life of the party.

Faces Full Of Fight

It was Max Schmeling's resemblance to Jack Dempsey that first caught the fancy of American fight fans. The night the black-haired German boxed Joe Seckra at the Garden in New York City, and again when he knocked out Johnny Rasko in the same arena, cries of "come on, Dempsey!" came from the galleries. However, in the main, and especially against Paulino a few weeks ago, "The Deutschland Dempsey" fought more in the style of Gene Tunney—delivering careful, cutting blows while protecting himself at all times. Schmeling has dark, beetle-browed, high-cheek-boned, panther-like look of the Dempsey of old; but he seldom, if ever, flashes a r-punching, raging, two-handed, knockem-down-or-out attack of that "Tiedo Typhoon" which blasted away Jess Willard's championship, stopped Georges Carpentier on schedule (the fourth round), and bumped off Luis Firpo in his first New York thriller. However, Max has the mauling mug which characterizes pugilists. And while much more is needed than facial ferocity, the so-called "Black Chulan" has several formidable fighting assets. Examine these accurately sketched profiles of "der Maxie", Jeffries and Dempsey. Note those embated jaws, pug noses and sloping chins—traits that tend to shear off thudding fists! Shock-absorbing craniums to be sure! Jack Dillon had such a militant mug and so did nine-tenths of the ring's other real fighters.

Mail Carriers Top Youngstown

The New Castle Post Office team defeated the Youngstown Post Office boys, 6 to 4, in a game played at Shady Run Park, Youngstown, on Sunday afternoon. It took ten innings to turn the trick. The game was a pitching duel between Wilson and Conti, with the local slab artist having the edge.

The locals had sixteen hits off Conti, with Donegan leading the procession with three, while McCann, Hindman, Lutz, Rehill and Roberts had two apiece.

Ruddy Regains Swimming Title

MASSAPETUQUA, N. Y., July 29.—Ray Ruddy, 17-year-old swimming star of the New York Athletic club, today again holds the national A. A. U. senior long-distance championship which he lost last year by default to Edward Lee, a clubmate. He negotiated the 4 1/2 mile course in Great South Bay in 1 hour, 19 minutes and 22 seconds yesterday, finishing 100 yards ahead of Lee and 220 yards in front of Walter Spence of Philadelphia, the national all-around indoor swimming champion.

Italians Trim Bessemer 6 To 2

Houston Pitches Fine Game As League Leaders Annex Twelve Straight Wins

The Italian A. A. team, leaders of the second half of the Lawrence county league, won their 12th straight game on Saturday afternoon by dropping the Bessemer team 6 to 2. Houston on the hill pitched a steady game, giving Bessemer but seven hits.

The Italians jumped into the lead in the third by scoring a lone run and came back in the fourth with three more runs. Two more markers went over the plate in the seventh.

Houston besides pitching a great game, was a heavy slacker with three safe blows, one of them a double, and called two runs. Genaro was the featured hitter with a double and triple. R. And those fighting phizzes are what tend first to capture public fancy. The ugly brow, heavy jaws, intelligent chin, but-like neck, battered nose, the look of battle in the eyes and the general fighting sowl are what pull the rimside and gallery from their seats with that "come-on" thrill. Especially when such annihilating looks are teamed with a hefty punch. Yes, Max Schmeling already appears to be the lineal heir of Jeffries, Dempsey, et al, so far as fighting looks are concerned. And as far as form goes, too, since the German is not yet 24 years old and thus has considerable time in which to really respond to the fans' clamor: "Come on, Dempsey!"

Energy Defeats Cascade Team

The Energy team gained an 8 to 4 decision over the Cascade A. C. team in a City-County League game played at the Energy field on Saturday afternoon.

Deane on the hill for Energy held the Cascade A. C. boys to five scattered hits and fanned 14 men. Deane was master of the game throughout the nine innings. The Cascade team scored three runs in the first two innings, but after that found Deane hard to solve. The Energy crew found four runs and fanned eight runs in two innings, the sixth and seventh.

Badger, Newton, Chapman and Roup had extra base hits. Energy had five errors, but they did very little damage.

At midnight he will return to New York to tell the Garden directors his impression as to whether Chicago or Detroit is the more enthusiastic in its response to the invitation.

Pirates-Cubs In Exciting Race

Interesting Battle Occurring In National League For First Place

By LES KONKIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 29.—The New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates, running in second place down the backstretch of the major league pennant races, are playing the same brand of ball, each outfit having won 58 games and lost 33 for a percentage of .637. But while this pace has kept the Pirates within 2 1/2 games of the Cubs, the Yankees have the misfortune to be in the same league with a club that has won seventy games with two more months of play remaining.

Just how tough is the task of the Yankees, is illustrated by the fact that they have won their last five games but failed to gain on the Athletics, who copped six out of seven last week. The Pirates took four out of seven but lost valuable ground to the Cubs, who followed up a successful Eastern trip by winning seven straight on their own lot.

Henry Johnson was knocked out by the Browns yesterday but old Tom Zachary, turning in his sixth straight win, saved the game with the aid of some heavy stickwork by Ruth and Gehrig. ROOSEVELT EIGHT SETS NEW WORLD'S NON-STOP RECORD

MARMON-BUILT STOCK CAR PROVES STAMINA IN RECORD-BREAKING RUN

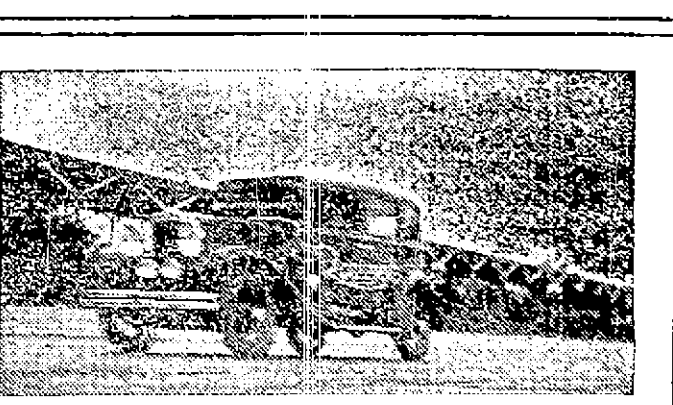

Gas, Oil and Water Taken on Fly—Official A.A.A. Supervision Throughout Run.

New proof—official proof—of Marmon quality workmanship and the outstanding dependability of Marmon's low-priced straight-eight—the Roosevelt.

This car has just established a new world's non-stop record which far overshadows any previous accomplishment of gasoline propelled vehicles on land or in the air.

For 440 hours (over 18 days) this Roosevelt carried on—through blinding rains, pitch black nights and burning suns—over a punishing brick course—taking gas, oil and water on the fly—fresh drivers going in every eight hours—with-out the car or engine making a single stop. The run was finally

Chivalry Suffers Heavy Setback In Pittsburgh Section

Three Distinct Cases Of Modern Knighthood And Chivalry Are Exploited

Defender Of Girl Beaten Up, Girls Rescued From "Rough Shells"; Husband Jailed

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, July 29.—Modern knighthood and chivalry as exemplified in two cases on the police court dockets were revealed for the citizenry of Pittsburgh today. In one case a fireman was suspended and held for police trial for beating the escort of a girl to whom he was alleged to have addressed a slurring remark. In the other case berry pickers near Carnegie on the Campbell Run road were forced to rescue two fifteen-year-old girls from the clutches of four youths who attempted to attack them.

Yes, the county detectives remarked, chivalry suffered a sad setback over the week-end, after being staunchly upheld Friday by a husband who shot to death the man who struck his wife.

John Conroy, 45, manager of a fire extinguisher company, had passed in front of the fire engine house with a young lady to halt a cab to take her home, police learned, when one of the firemen was alleged to have addressed a slur to the young lady. Conroy turned to object and Daniel Rose, 28, city fireman attacked him, according to witnesses. Bystanders dragged the fireman from the girl's escort and took Conroy into the station for treatment, they said.

Fireman Suspended

"Come in here with your friend and fight it out with the fireman yourself," one gallant was said to have commanded the young woman. Rose was suspended and held for hearing today.

The berry pickers case occurred, police said, when Myrtle Feckert, 15, and Myrtle Schultz, 15, agreed to "go for a ride" with four young men who were driving a car said by officers to have been stolen. Five miles from Carnegie the car stopped.

"Out of gas," was the laconic comment of the driver, the girls said

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Don't get excited customers. It's just the old corymb back in print again after eight weeks' absence. Which absence was due to the vagaries of an automobile that decided to try wallowing in the ditch on the Coalstown Road.

As Walter Hagen would say, the car was having a rough time. In the mees I happened to get my left hand jammed somehow, and after the doctors got through their embroidery work on the hand it took some time to heal up. Total casualties, one small finger on left hand, a coupe of back springs in the car, a fender, and some glass.

About the only real handicap the loss of the finger will entail will be playing the ukelele, and I never could play the darn things anyway.

That and the fact that I won't be able to hold up that little finger when I'm drinking tea.

What I'd like to do today is devote the entire corymb to hospitals, for after spending twelve days in the Shenango Valley, let me say that none of us really appreciate what those institutions do. It was my first experience as a customer in a hospital, and if I never have to go back into one it will be plenty soon enough, but when you need them, say what a comfort they are.

And right here while the typewriter is still functioning I want to thank everybody connected with that haven of mercy on the hill. From the superintendent down to the little maid who swept the room out, they were wonderful. Nothing was any bother, and the average patient makes plenty of bother.

As for the friends who visited me, and who sent in enough flowers to start a good sized conservatory, not even this corymb can express my gratitude. Some things can't be set down in words. They stay locked up in one's heart, a collection of jewels that never grow dim, remembrances that mellow one, and make him very sure that this is a mighty good town, that the people here are the salt of the earth, that he has about eight times as many friends as he deserves or thought he had.

That's about enough about hospitals and operations and accidents. If I write any more you'll be able to smell the ether and this corymb was never intended for anasthesia.

Roamed around out on the Slippery Rock Sunday afternoon, far away from the busy streets and the city. Out where the wind forms a canopy over winding rivulets, and the sun never gets through. Out where the rocks form leanties over the little runs, and the thermometer would register twenty degrees lower than it does out on the street.

There was a supper of course, one of those little suppers composed of baked ham, and beans, and potato salad, and deviled eggs, and pickles, and cake and pie and fruit. Just a light lunch that leaves you satisfied with the world and takes you a couple of hours to work off.

Where we were, the hills are high along the creek bank, and it took little imagination to make you believe that you were down in the Blue Ridge mountains somewhere.

Here's a sign in a drug store that gives me a chuckle. "The man with a camera is as popular as the man with a saxophone." Will the serious thinkers who read this kindly send in their answers as to how popular a man with a saxophone is.

That's about all for today. The corymb is back in, and if you have any suggestions for its improvement, send them in. The best suggestion will receive a first prize consisting of one lace salad fork.

Bo-Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Announcement is made that Ben Hecht, co-author of "The Front Page" is working on a talkie to be produced soon and which will be called "The Homelids Squad." The story deals with the branch of the New York police department by that name.

Whether the picture will be worth seeing may be judged from a few remarks Ben made himself lately. "I have been earning my living by spending two months a year writing tripe for the lower class popular magazines—of late by inventing a unique kind of swill for the movies. I am regarded in Hollywood as a great scenario writer."

Which again raises the question: Does the hell-diver see mud with the same eyes as the bird of paradise?

A DAWG AND HIS MASTER.

Florian Haspel having attained the summit of his 13th year just naturally owns a dawg. The dawg's name of course is "Spot."

The other day two men saw Spot enter the upper end of a storm sewer which runs down hill for two blocks and is open at either end. The kindly offices of a cop were enlisted. The cop's efforts were worse than useless. The cop summoned four firemen from a nearby hook and ladder house and the two policemen, four firemen and the cop conked and capoled and died with Spot to come forth until they were blue in the face.

While they were thus busily engaged Mr. Florian the flea hound's boss hove in sight, inquired the cause of the disturbance and when informed that his hound was hiding in the sewer bristled the policeman, pedestrians and firemen and got down on his hands and knees, stuck his head into the 36-inch main and emitted a low, dismal, Wagnerian whistle where upon Spot bounded.

"What's all this shoutin' for?" remarked Florian as he and the bone polisher ambled off.

HAPPY ENDING.

Martha McGraw is blond, beautiful but not dumb. She's a former Shubert leading lady and appeared with the Barrymores in "The Jest." Very much of and for Broadway, Martha is a forceful lady and like everyone else she realizes that the show business is shot.

Hundreds of actors and actresses out of work are satisfied to wait around for times to change and something to turn up. Not so Martha. She called for a new deck and a fresh deal, went in for bold selling in a serious way and when she thought she had the role better perfect presented herself as the Harriman National Bank.

Had they any use for a female bond peddler? They gave her the once-over and decided they had.

And Martha is one of the best in the business. It's all Broadstreet and no Bunk with her. No luncheon and no sex stuff. She makes it clear to all susceptible customers that she sells bonds—only.

BUNCO.

The bunco game and gold brick industry still flourish in the City of Queer Percentages. They don't actually sell gold bricks any more. It's French perfume—smuggled and costly furs—stolen. Of course the perfume isn't stolen at all—as a matter of fact, so cheap it isn't worth stealing. And the furs are for the most part cat hide and unborn mule. But the lads in Hello Suckerville fall day after day for the old army game and the coin men prosper accordingly.

In the final analysis it's merely a case of cheating cheaters. The Honest citizen who buys stuff he thinks is stolen deserves all he gets.

A TUTOR'S JOB.

A certain Ziegfeld Gazette is doing her best to get ahead in life and to justify the faith that a wealthy young broker is manifesting in her. He has provided her with a private tutor whose function is to solder up the little holes left in her early education.

"He's a wonderful teacher," she confided. "He makes things so simple anybody could understand them."

"What are you studying?" inquired her friend.

"We ain't got very far yet," said the Gazette. "We're jes' beginnin' with science an' philosophy!"

Fatal Auto Crash Occurs Near Kent

KENT, O., July 29.—Oliver Hill, 28, of Johnsonburg, Pa., was injured fatally in a collision of four automobiles three miles south of here Sunday.

Sixteen other occupants of the cars were injured and one of them, John McReady, 186 W. Miller street, Akron, was in Ravenna hospital in a critical condition.

Three of the cars were going from Pittsburgh to southern Michigan. The first of these edged another car going the opposite direction. The two cars following piled up against the wreckage of the first two.

Seven of the injured, including Hill and McReady, were taken to the hospital, where Hill died. The other five who were taken to the hospital, left after receiving treatment.

International News Service PEIPIN, China, July 29.—Reports received here today stated that Mohammedans had massacred 20,000 males between the ages of 17 and 70 in the vicinity of the Kansu-Thiber border. The wholesale slaughter was said to have been consummated in two hours.

SHE THOUGHT:

Yet, to be polite.

SHE SAID:
"Let's open the windshield. It's such a hot day."

How Fred's happiness was nearly ruined by "B.O."

(Body Odor)

TODAY—he had planned to propose. But her attitude froze him. What could be the matter? It was hot, to be sure. But why should that distress her so?

Fred never suspected "B.O." then. Yet body odor isn't interfering with his happiness now—he's married to Anne. Read how he found the easy way to keep perspiration odorless.

Perspiration without "B.O."

"Like any normal, healthy human being, I perspire—particularly in hot weather. I've been told that pores give off as much as a quart of waste daily."

"But it never occurred to me that perspiration means 'B.O.' We become insensitive to an ever-present odor. I offended—unknowingly!"

"Then I came to Lifebuoy—and what a difference! When I step out of my daily tub now, I feel alive—gloriously clean! Pores are purified so deeply by Lifebuoy's marvelous antiseptic lather, that 'B.O.' is prevented."

"Lifebuoy's a fine skin soap, too. It guards health—by removing germs. Its pleasant extra-clean scent, that vanishes as you rinse, tells you Lifebuoy purifies."
